FEDERALS WILL NOT
FLEE TO THE U. S.

Commanders of Huerta's Army
Say They Will Die Fighting—Soldiers on Duty for Week Without Food—Ojinaga Bombarded

OJINAGA, Mexico, Jan. 5, via army line to Marfa.—All doubt as to the intention of the Mexican federal army to defeat the rebels or to stay here until every soldier was dead, was dispelled by Gen. Francisco Castro, leader of the general federal troops, and General Salazar, commander of the federal volunteers, in interviews at headquarters today. Retreat of federal soldiers across the border to the United States territory would be induced only by some unexpected development, according to the two commanders, and even if all soldiers deserted, the generals say, they would remain to die at their posts. "It is thought that we came to Ojinaga so that, if we were pursued by Villa's rebels we could step across the border," said General Castro. "Such a plan is preposterous. Our forces evacuated Chihuahua because we had been isolated there. We had no way to obtain money to pay the soldiers who remained loyal to General Huerta and we had no means of communication with the war department at Mexico City. Our duty was to open a line of communication with the government and escort from Chihuahua City citizens who feared they would be murdered by Villa. We selected Ojinaga because it is one of the best natural fortifications in the world. It also offered a source of communication with Mexico City, as well as a port through which we might import provisions. Our position here is impregnable. We have ample stores of ammunition and more than fifty field pieces. Our losses have been greatly under those of the rebels.

Will Not Cross Border
"Ortega, who came to attack us on orders from Villa, thought his presence would cause us to flee to the United States. He was surprised when we resisted him. Our four thousand loyal soldiers, because of our superior fortifications, are able to resist 10,000 rebels, and there are not that many rebels in the north. Each of us is ready to die should that be necessary and if we evacuate this place it will not be to a foreign country."
General Castro's interview was given in a quaint plaster house on the Plaza which has been under almost continuous firing for a week. As he talked the cannonading and rattle of the infantry of General Ortega's rebel army to the west of the village was audible.
For a short time bursting shrapnel was scattering a shower of bullets about the village. Dead soldiers lying unburied in the outer trenches and hundreds of living soldiers on duty for a week without sleep were some of the scenes witnessed today in an inspection of this frontier village, 67 miles from a railroad which has become the battle ground of a possible final conflict for the possession of the north. So far neither side has made material headway except in the drain on the federal ammunition by the rebels. A few of the adobe houses used as federal forts have been demolished but the damage to fortifications made of dirt has been casual.

Patrol Takes Precautions
Despite assurances of Generals Castro and Salazar that the federals had no desire to flee to the United States in case of utter defeat, the United States patrol did not slacken its precautions taken with a view to that emergency. Already about 500 federal deserters have crossed and either have been disarmed and sent back or have escaped into Texas. Because of the tendency of both the contending armies across the river from Presidio to send their wounded to the American side to be cared for, the Red Cross today sent Ernest P. Dickrell, the national director to provide more hospital supplies. The message said hundreds of wounded might have to be cared for ultimately.

INAUGURATED AT CITY HALL TODAY

Mayor Murphy Delivered Inaugural Address—Is Opposed to Further Increase of Salaries—Advocates Increase in $12 Tax Limit—Ald. Brown's Inaugural

ALDERMAN JAMES H. CARMICHAEL

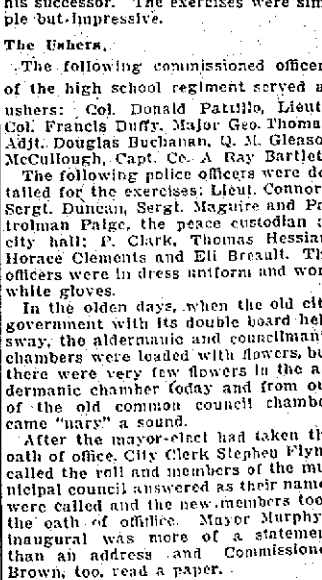

MAYOR DENNIS J. MURPHY

ALDERMAN CHARLES J. MORSE

ALDERMAN JAMES E. DONNELLY

ALDERMAN GEORGE H. BROWN

The new members of the municipal council for 1914, Mayor Dennis J. Murphy and Commissioners James H. Carmichael and Charles J. Morse were inducted into office at city hall this forenoon. The inaugural exercises were held in the municipal chamber and were very simple.
It was but a little after 10 o'clock when City Messenger Mountain announced the arrival of the "government for 1914." The procession from the mayor's office to the council chamber was led by Edmund Welch, superintendent of police and the city messenger. Then came Mayor James E. O'Donnell and Dennis J. Murphy, mayor-elect; Rev. Lawrence P. Tighe, O. M. I., of the Immaculate Conception church; Judge Thomas J. Enright administered the oath of office to the mayor-elect and the man who was mayor up to that minute, James E. O'Donnell, turned the meeting over to his successor. The exercises were simple but impressive.

The Exercises.
The following commissioned officers of the high school regiment served as ushers: Col. Donald Pattillo, Lieut. Col. Francis Duffy, Major Geo. Thomas, Adjt. Douglas Buchanan, Q. M. Gleason, McCullough, Capt. Co. A. Ray Bartlett.
The following police officers were detailed for the exercises: Lieut. Connors, Sergt. Duncan, Sergt. Maguire and Patrolman Paige, the peace custodian at city hall; P. Clark, Thomas Hession, Horace Clements and Eli Breault. The officers were in dress uniform and wore white gloves.
In the olden days, when the old city government with its double board held sway, the aldermanic and councilmanic chambers were loaded with flowers, but there were very few flowers in the aldermanic chamber today and from out of the old common council chamber came "nary" a sound.
After the mayor-elect had taken the oath of office, City Clerk Stephen Flynn called the roll and members of the municipal council answered as their names were called and the new members took the oath of office. Mayor Murphy's inaugural was more of a statement than an address and Commissioner Brown, too, read a paper.

Mayor Murphy's Address
Mayor Murphy's inaugural included a financial statement of the city on Jan. 1, 1914. The inaugural:
We meet here this morning to institute a new administration of affairs for the city of Lowell and to take up the burdens of official responsibility which we voluntarily assume in response to the demands of a constituency that has honored us with an expression of their confidence and trust.
We meet here upon a common ground, with equal opportunities and responsibilities. Our objects should be one and the same, that of the highest good of the city and the welfare of all the people.
We should administer the laws of our city fairly and impartially, with equal rights to all and special privileges to none.
The true aim of our government should be the happiness and welfare of all the people.
Let us strive for an honest and successful administration of the internal affairs of the city; for we are all directors for the time being of this great municipal corporation, and we should reply ourselves to the great task before us. I am honored of the duties which my oath of office imposes and I am also aware that without your council and support, I will be able to accomplish little, so that in your hands, as well as in mine, rests the responsibility of a good and successful government for the coming year.
The highest standards with respect to public service should always be our aim. Therefore, let us try honestly to treat all matters with that fairness and broadness of mind that we would apply in deciding matters of great importance connected with our own affairs or our own business, so that the duties entrusted to our care by the citizens of our city shall be able and wisely performed for the good and benefit of all, and for the credit of Lowell.
In appropriating money for the various departments and for the public work of the city we should always bear in mind that we are spending other people's money as well as a small portion of our own; that the distribution of the city's money should be fair and equitable, neither lavish on the one hand nor stinting on the other.
The determining factor should always be that true economy is for the general good of all the people, not only

NATION-WIDE LABOR
STRIKE THREATENED

Charles H. Moyer Credited With
Saying That Gompers Will Visit
Washington to Consider Sympathetic Walkout

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—Charles H. Moyer was credited today with saying that Samuel Gompers and other officials of the American Federation of Labor would meet in Washington in a few days to consider the advisability of calling a nation-wide strike of labor organizations in sympathy with the copper miners of Michigan.

for today, but for next year, and the years that are to follow.
Many improvements and changes may be desired and urged for our favorable consideration, but we should never forget that what people desire and what is expedient are two different propositions, and we should be guided by expediency. We should have that which we need and can afford, but we must do without that which we may desire but cannot afford.
Every government has had the financial problem to take up. Municipal government and most vexatious problem to be taken up by incoming administrations. I feel that I indulge in no exaggeration and labor under no misconception, when I declare that nothing of a financial nature ever confronted a municipal council of the city of Lowell with greater weight or more pressing force than the problem of making both ends meet in receipts and expenditures.
Lowell, in common with other cities and towns, must change its financial system if laws passed by the general court are to be lived up to.
Many years ago, before the passage of existing laws and the passage of amendments to existing laws, the general court fixed the arbitrary rate of $12.00 per thousand, which may be raised for current expenses in this city by a tax levy.
Those changed conditions must be met. Legislative enactments and local demands have steadily and permanently increased the fixed charges. In the meantime, the principal source of revenue has remained the tax levy fixed by the general court at $12 per thousand.
Improvements have and must be made in a growing city, and these improvements and additions to the plant have to be paid for as much as the current expenses.
The increase in the mandatory expenses and fixed charges have exhausted the amount raised by the $12 tax, and practically all additions to our city are now being paid for by the proceeds of loans, which have become an annual increasing mortgage on the municipality.
While it is true that the tax rate of the city may be raised somewhat if we change this $12 rate on the thousand, nevertheless, the final result will mean the inauguration of a pay-as-you-go policy, and I believe the honest fair-minded tax payer would rather pay a slight increase in his tax rate than have the municipal council borrow thousands of dollars in loans, upon which a large amount of interest must be paid. The amount of interest which has become a fixed charge upon the city of Lowell would be almost enough to run our buildings and charities department.

Police Department
It is my intention to permit the superintendent of police to run this department. I have confidence in his ability and integrity to so conduct his department that in the end it will reflect credit upon the city. Proper discipline at all times should be maintained. The officers and patrolmen of this department should never enter into politics. It should and must be run on the merit system and not on the political system.

BODY OF GIRL FOUND

Miss Jessie McCann Disappeared From Her Home Dec. 4—Body Washed Ashore Yesterday

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—The body of which would have caused her to commit suicide.

The police believe that Miss McCann did commit suicide, although the family said last night they believe it was an accident. The police believe that Miss McCann was ill, and in a highly nervous state due to natural causes, the fact that she met her death in a spot remote from her home, and where she was not in the habit of going, make a logical conclusion that she decided to commit suicide because of the mental and physical pain of her nervous breakdown.

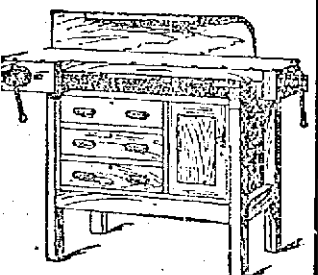

Robert McCann, Jr., refused to make a statement yesterday, but his sister, Ethel, 15 years old, said that the identification is beyond any chance for doubt.

She does not believe that his committed suicide," she said, hesitatingly. "We believe it was an accident; that she went down to look at the ocean and get the fresh air, and that while sitting on the rocks she tripped and fell over. She may have struck her head on a rock, and drowned without anyone near to help her out."

Coroner's Physician Reicher, made an autopsy late in the day. He said that death was due to drowning, and that there was no sign of violence in any form.

He also said that the autopsy proved that there were no physical reasons evidenced after death which would have caused her nervous condition, or

DR. S. W. MITCHELL DEAD

NOTED AUTHOR AND PHYSICIAN DIED AT PHILADELPHIA YESTERDAY

PHILADELPHIA, Penn., Jan. 5.—Dr. S. W. Mitchell, noted author and physician, died at his home here early yesterday. Death was due to influenza, the seriousness of which was accentuated by his advanced age. He was in his 84th year. Funeral services will be held on Tuesday, Jan. 6.

Dr. Mitchell was stricken last Monday with what was at first thought to be a mild attack of grip, and until yesterday no apprehension was felt. His condition, however, became grave last night and the distinguished patient did not rally. Members of his immediate family were with him during the last hours of his life.

Dr. Silas W. Mitchell, who, like Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes, enjoyed the unusual distinction of having won renown and success in two fields of human activity so substantially different as medicine and literature, was born in Philadelphia on Feb. 15, 1830. His father, John K. Mitchell, was a prominent physician of Philadelphia, and for many years a professor in Jefferson Medical college. As a boy Silas W. Mitchell went for several years to the grammar school of the University of Pennsylvania, but illness prevented him from graduating.

In accordance with the wish of his father young Silas entered Jefferson Medical college to prepare himself for a medical career and he graduated with honors in 1856, receiving the degree of M. D. Although his own inclination tended toward literature, Dr. Mitchell, after he had once entered upon a medical career, devoted himself with great energy to his work and studies. He gained an extensive hospital practice, made careful and important studies into the nature of various poisons, especially snake poisons, and published a large number of articles and essays on medical and scientific subjects.

Boston Woman Cheers Firemen Scaling Wall to Save Her—Keeps Cool and is Rescued

BOSTON, Jan. 5.—Thrilling features enclosed fire escape in the building which he found to be a veritable funnel or chimney because some one had left the door into it below open. Like-wise doors were locked on the inside, making it a trap for anyone descending.

Montgomery was taken down in the elevator by its operator, Michael Doherty, who had called to Miss Grady but had failed to arouse her, and who was snatching back from smoke when the car reached the bottom.

Greenwood, the gun company treasurer, tried to get back into the office and close the safe door, but was prevented by the superintendent of the building, Walter Brooks, who had been summoned and tried to use the fire fighting apparatus in the building.

After the blaze was out the door was found knocked off as if it had been blown open, but the firemen said that in throwing open a door next to it, the red hot hinges had been struck so that they snapped.

Sennott expressed the opinion that had the fire occurred on an ordinary business day, with the upper floors crowded, panic and incident loss of life might have been the result. They said that though the stairways are dark and narrow, the buildings is perfectly fire proof and there could be no danger if every one were to emulate Miss Grady's coolness.

District Chief Sennott made a number of recommendations which Henry S. Lowe, one of the trustees of the Compton Associates, owners of the building, agreed would be carried out.

Railroad to Alaska Urged In Congress

Photos by American Press Association. By JOHN J. BREEN.

THE proposition to issue $35,000,000 in bonds and to make immediately available the appropriation of $1,000,000 for the construction of a federal government railroad in Alaska is before congress and opens anew the problem as to what this country will do with the great undeveloped empire of the north. That the construction of a railroad by the government to penetrate the coal fields will finally be authorized is the prediction of many senators.

There has been developed some opposition, however, in the territories committees of the house of representatives which has the proposition directly in charge. In a minority report it is declared that "the building of a railroad between the United States and Alaska or the construction of such roads in Alaska has been unattractive to private capital, and there is no appropriate defense to be advanced for the launching of the federal government into such a scheme."

In addition it is maintained that there is a coal supply of 7,000 years' duration in the United States and that Wyoming has enough for the United States for ten centuries to come.

Senator Key Pittman of Nevada, who is one of the most earnest advocates of an Alaskan railroad, declares that ordinarily he would be opposed to government ownership, regarding it as a dangerous political power in our form of government. A situation is presented in Alaska, however, he believed, which would exempt it from this rule and justify government construction and ownership.

Alaska, with its potential wealth and its scenic attractions second to no country in the world, now, after more than half a century of ownership by the United States, presents transportation difficulties to a traveler and to the resident which are almost insurmountable except in a few isolated instances. In the great mountain ranges lie hoards of gold and copper which need only railroads or wagon roads to reach tide water and make the person who finds them wealthy beyond the dreams of avarice. But the transportation is not there.

Alaska's Great Area.

Few persons who have not visited the remarkable country realize its extent or possibilities. It is a region needing strong men, of great mountains and mammoth rivers rushing down to the sea. Its area is as large as that of the combined states of Washington, Oregon, California, Nevada and Arizona, or, to put it another way, as large as the thirteen original states, with the addition of Maine, Vermont, Ohio, Indiana, Tennessee, Kentucky and Michigan, with a few square miles to spare. These states total 586,210 square miles, and Alaska stretches over 586,400.

It is one-fifth as large as the entire United States and if placed with its northern boundary along the northern boundary of the United States at Minnesota would extend through half a dozen and more of the largest states of the central west, while its southeastern boundary would rest at Charleston, S. C., and the last of the Aleutian Islands would be in the vicinity of the Golden Gate.

Such is the great "mother of the north," which was bought from Russia in 1867 for $7,200,000 and since that time has produced $470,390,053 and the beginning is not even reached as yet. During the year 1912 the products of the country totaled $40,354,178. Of this amount gold and copper were mined to the value of $21,550,000, and fish and fur were worth $18,120,132.

Its exports of all kinds during that year amounted to $72,741,060, and its imports to $36,753,341. Such is the country whose surface has just been scratched and whose real development has not begun, for which half a century this government paid a paltry $7,200,000, and then the man who made the purchase was characterized as a simpleton.

There are only 465 miles of railroad built in all Alaska, and of this but 331 miles is operated commercially. The remainder consists of 119 abandoned and twelve miles of cannery road. The Guggenheim road up the Copper river makes 197 miles of the operated mileage.

In wagon roads and trails the country is but little better off, with a total for the entire territory of 3,511 miles. Wagon roads make up 847 miles, winter sled roads 645, trails 1,569 and trails staked for winter 450 miles.

During the winter months, when the days are short and the mercury drops low in the tube, these rivers are used for roads of travel, and in some instances communication is more swift in the winter than during the summer months. Nome is an example of this. In the summer for the past few years there has been a mail only once a month, except in rare instances, coming in from Seattle or San Francisco by steamer. In the winter the dog teams bring it down the Tanana and Yukon from Fairbanks once in two weeks, after it reaches the former city by way of Valdez or Seward by other dog teams.

Legislators Travel Far.

Former Governor Walter E. Clark of Alaska in a contributed article tells of the difficulties of the assembling and adjournment of the first legislative assembly of Alaska in the spring of 1913. Natural conditions such as have had no counterpart in human history confronted the members.

The territory for which this legislature was elected to pass laws is probably larger than any other political division of the earth's surface presided over by an official other than a president or a sovereign. So sparsely settled is this great region that it is estimated that the number of white persons to the square mile of area is only about sixteen.

The election of the members of this legislature was held in the month of November, 1912, eight senators being chosen and sixteen representatives.

The election registers, ballots and other papers from two of the four great judicial divisions of Alaska had to be transmitted to Juneau, the capital, through the mails overland in mid-winter, and complete returns did not reach Juneau until Feb. 12, 1913. There they were canvassed by the territorial canvassing board. As Mr. Clark says, if, in the first legislative election, the vote had been so close in certain precincts as to promise contested elections as between two or more candidates unfortunate results would have followed, for the necessary slowness in making returns to the canvassing board rendered it impossible to issue election certificates until the members apparently elected had arrived in Juneau for the convening of the legislature on March 3. In this case, however, the "face" returns were so conclusive there was no likelihood of change.

The members elected from the north and northwest divisions were obliged to travel over the winter trail. Several of those from the northern (Fairbanks) division traveled about 350 miles in sleighs operated by the stage company over the Fairbanks-Valdez wagon road, but the senators and representatives from the northwest (Nome) division traveled with dog teams from points in that division to the head of the stage line at Fairbanks, a distance of from 700 to 900 miles. Then followed the sleigh trip of about 350 miles to Valdez and a journey by steamer from Valdez to Juneau of about 670 miles. One of the senators from the fourth division walked over the frozen trail during one stage of his journey several hundred miles. On the average the twenty-three members who actually attended the first session traveled a distance of 2,541 miles in order to reach the capital and return to their homes. The six members from the second division traveled on the average 5,514 miles. The largest one way mileage of any member was that of Representative Kennedy, 4,049. This latter was the "shortest usually traveled route" in returning to his home after the spring breakup of the trail. In coming to Juneau his mileage was 1,959 over the winter trails.

Lane Favors Railroads.

Secretary of the Interior Lane recently wrote: "There is but one way to make any country a real part of the world and that is by building railroads into it. This has been the heart of England's policy in Africa, of Russia's policy in western Asia and in the promising hope of the new movement in China. Whoever owns the railways of a country determines very largely the future of that country."

"I am convinced that we should think of Alaska as a land not only of mines and fisheries, but of towns, farms, mills and factories, supporting millions of people of the race. If this conception of a possible Alaska is a true one our legislation should be such as to most surely bring about this possibility. It seems to me there is less of hazard as to Alaska's future if the government of the United States owns the railroads, which will make its fertile interior valleys accessible from the coast and bring its coal, iron, copper and other mineral resources within the reach of the world."

"This is a new policy for the United States. Very true. This is a new part of the United States. And policies properly change with new conditions. The one determining question in all matters of government should be, 'What is the wise thing to do?' The ancient method of opening a country was to build wagon roads. The modern method is to build railroads."

Mitchel, at 34, Mayor of Great City

Photos of Mayor Mitchel and Mrs. Mitchel copyright, 1913, by American Press Association. MAYOR JOHN PURROY MITCHEL, MRS. MITCHEL, NEW YORK CITY HALL IN BACKGROUND.

STUDENTS of government in every city in the United States and even in European cities today have their eyes focused on John Purroy Mitchel, elected to become on the first of the year at the youthful age of thirty-four years mayor of the great city of New York, the operation of whose government has been a problem which some of the brightest minds in the country have sought to solve.

There are so many and mixed angles in the running of this great city that even Mr. Mitchel's ardent friends privately confess their misgivings. It was thought when the late William J. Gaynor became the head of the municipal organization of the big city the ideal man for the job had been found. Even the late mayor's enemies admit he was the greatest municipal executive the city had in many a day. But toward the end of his term he had to bear a great amount of criticism, due to the odium heaped on the police department and the subway question. Men who were his former friends were among the first to decry him. What was a great man and a great mayor, now New York has a young, virtuous man who, while he has not had near the experience with men and things of his predecessor, is consumed with energy and hopefulness and who is determined that the government of this great city shall be conducted on strict business principles. He has stated that he intends to surround himself with the best men he can find irrespective of partisanship politics. He has declared that he has a full conception of the great task ahead of him and that he intends to make good.

America before the civil war, serving in the confederate army on the staff of General John B. Gordon. After the war the elder Mitchel came to New York and for a long term of years was city fire marshal. Henry D. Purroy, a noted figure in New York politics of twenty years ago, married a sister and thereby became the uncle of the present mayor. It was from this uncle that a part of his name comes—John Purroy.

Here are some of the new mayor's personal characteristics: He dresses well, without gaudiness or flash. His clothes seem always to fit him, and you don't see wrinkles in his trousers or across the back of his coat.

He likes a good dinner and knows how to order one without looking at the bill of fare to see how much each dish costs.

He rides in the subway and does not try to sport an automobile that is beyond his income.

He goes to the theater and enjoys a late supper in good company. He says "Hello!" to men he knows and is not too dignified to call friends by their first names.

He is a flat dweller in New York in winter and gets out into the country in the summer time.

He likes an easy chair, a good book and a cigar in his own home on a cold winter night.

He is handy with his fists and quick on his feet. He is a baseball fan and an all round outdoor sportsman.

Out of town visitors say you can tell New Yorkers by their indifference to people about them. Then Mitchel is a New Yorker. He has a way of concentrating his mind on something and appearing wholly oblivious to persons and events surrounding him. He does not seem even to hear. His power of centering on a single subject or object is exceptional.

Mayor Mitchel has been seven years in political office as follows:

Appointed an assistant in the corporation counsel's office in 1906 by William B. Eitson, then corporation counsel under Mayor McClellan. Promoted to commissioner of accounts April 22, 1907. Elected president of the board of aldermen in 1909. Appointed collector of the port of New York by President Wilson in May, 1913. Elected mayor Nov. 4, 1913.

Mrs. Mitchel's tastes are and always have been in the four years of her married life—she was Miss Olive Child, and she and Mr. Mitchel were married just before he started campaigning for the presidency of the board of aldermen in 1909—in complete accord with her old fashioned view of her own position and its responsibilities. She is fond of the theater, but she does not care to go alone, and she will not permit her husband to escort her unless she is convinced that he also would enjoy and would benefit by the relaxation.

JACQUES KNICKERBOCKER.

John Kinley Tener, Baseball's Big Man

IT is generally agreed that the state of Pennsylvania will be a big loser and the National baseball league a great gainer when John Kinley Tener, who now presides over the destinies of the Keystone State devotes all his time to baseball. Those who with tongue and pen have proclaimed that the great national game makes for better citizenship can point to a striking example in the man who recently was selected president of the oldest major league.

Tener made good as a ball player. Then he made good as a business man. Next he made good in politics, which is harder than playing third base on a rough diamond with the opposing team hitting at a .300 clip. Now he has been selected to handle executive ally all the teams in the National league. Will he again make good? His friends answer by declaring that the National league under his experienced eye is in for the most prosperous period in its career.

Tener is expected to be the savior of the league. Not that there was any imminent danger of this body being disrupted, but baseball is a scrappy, aggressive game. It has scrappy, aggressive managers (with apologies to one Jawn McGraw). And when an aggregation of this kind gets together to agree on some one who will be their boss the session invariably is a stormy one. And that was the situation when the National league magnates got together at its last meeting.

BUILDINGS DAMAGED BY STORM

Seabright, New Jersey, Torn and Destroyed by Disastrous Storm—Relief Case Today

SEABRIGHT, N. J., Jan. 5.—Although Seabright is torn and desolate from the effects of the disastrous storm which raged from Friday night until this morning relief came with a shift in the wind and the sea began to moderate.

The stiff northeast wind which prevailed for days drove the Atlantic coast inland, but an offshore wind set in this morning with snow. Every able-bodied man in town was busy today setting things in order. Mass meetings are to be held looking to an appeal for funds, both from the state and national governments. Damage along the coast is difficult to estimate, but it will exceed a million and a half dollars.

JOHNNY WAS NOT GALLANT

The topic at a recent banquet turned to the rising generation, when John M. Haines, recalled how little Johnny rather ungenerally classified the gentle sex of the Indian tribes.

The incident happened in a school one afternoon when the lesson was on the American Indian, and the teacher asked if any little boy or girl could tell her what the leaders of the various tribes were called.

"They are called chiefs," promptly answered a bright little girl in response to the question.

"Correct!" said the teacher, smiling approvingly. "Now, then, can any one of you tell me what the women of the Indian tribes are called?"

For a moment there was silence. Every pupil in the class was thinking hard. Finally little Johnny Brown's hand shot up.

"Well, Johnny," said the teacher, "what are the women of the Indian tribes called?"

"Miss Chiefs," promptly answered Johnny—Rehoboth Sunday Herald.

ALTITUDES OF PLACES IN PENN.

The United States geological survey is publishing a series of reports containing the results of spirit leveling on all parts of the country and giving the exact elevations or altitudes of a great number of points. One of these reports—Bulletin 515, "Results of Spirit Leveling in Pennsylvania, 1850 to 1911"—is available for free distribution and can be had on application to the director of the survey at Washington.

The work during the period covered by the report was done in co-operation with the topographic and geologic survey commission of Pennsylvania.

The volume gives the exact elevations above mean sea level of about 250 points in the state, in addition to nearly 250 secondary elevations from records and topographic maps of the United States geological survey. Including altitudes of well known points, elevations of water surface of prominent lakes, and other useful elevations. These elevations have been determined by the survey in connection with its topographic surveying. To engineers and surveyors this publication should be of great advantage, as the elevations, which have been accurately determined, afford a starting point for a survey of any kind that may be contemplated.

COL. CARMICHAEL WILL PUT SALARIES BACK

Where They Were Before In-

Will Rescind Action of His Predecessor

After the municipal council for 1914 had adjourned to tomorrow at 11 o'clock there was more visiting and handshaking and the men elected to the different departments were handed the keys to their respective departments.

Colonel Carmichael said he had decided to revoke the action of his predecessor in the raising of salaries in the water department. To Supt. Thomas he said: "I will not take the matter up today, but I feel it my duty to put the salaries back where they were. If my predecessor had made the increase several months ago I might think differently about it."

Mayor Murphy Delivered Inaugural Address—Is Opposed to Further Increase of Salaries—Advocates Increase in $12 Tax Limit—Ald.
Brown's Inaugural

ALDERMAN JAMES H. CARMICHAEL

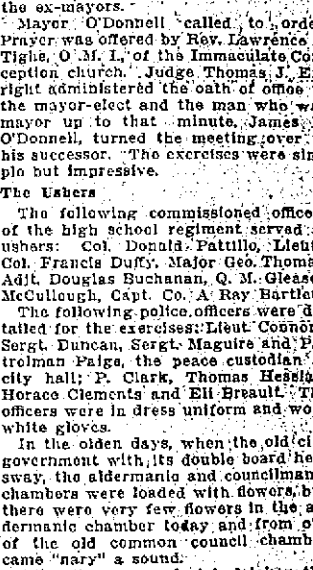

MAYOR DENNIS J. MURPHY

ALDERMAN CHARLES J. MORSE

ALDERMAN JAMES E. DONNELLY

ALDERMAN GEORGE H. BROWN

The municipal council for 1914 was duly installed this morning at city hall, the inaugural exercises consisting of the usual formalities, after which Mayor Murphy delivered a brief inaugural address which follows. Alderman Brown also delivered an address and made recommendations which are published herewith.

After Alderman Brown had finished reading his inaugural address, the meeting adjourned till 11:45, when the assignment of departments and other business was dealt with.

Inaugural Exercises

The new members of the municipal council for 1914, Mayor Dennis J. Murphy and Commissioners James H. Carmichael and Charles J. Morse were inducted into office at city hall this forenoon. The inaugural exercises were held in the municipal chamber and were very simple.

It was but a little after 10 o'clock when City Messenger Monahan announced the arrival of the "government" for 1914. The procession from the Mayor's office to the council chamber was led by Redmond Welch, superintendent of police and the city messenger. Then came Mayor James E. O'Donnell and Dennis J. Murphy, Mayor-elect; Rev. Lawrence J. Tighe, O. M. I., and Judge Thomas J. Enright.

Then came the commissioners and then the ex-mayors.

Mayor O'Donnell called to order. Prayer was offered by Rev. Lawrence J. Tighe, O. M. I., of the Immaculate Conception church. Judge Thomas J. Enright administered the oath of office to the Mayor-elect and the man who was Mayor up to that minute, James E. O'Donnell, turned the meeting over to his successor. The exercises were simple but impressive.

The Officers

The following commissioned officers of the high school regiment served as ushers: Col. Donald P. Fitts, Lieut. Col. Francis Duffy, Major Geo. Thomas, Adj. Douglas Buchanan, Q. M. Gleason McCullough, Capt. Co. A. Ray Bartlett.

The following police officers were detailed for the exercises: Lieut. Connor, Sergt. Duncan, Sergt. Maguire and Patrolman Paige, the peace custodian at city hall; P. Clark, Thomas Heblan, Horace Clements and Bill Braut. The officers were in dress uniform and wore white gloves.

In the old days, when the old city government with its double board held sway, the aldermanic and councilmanic chambers were loaded with flowers, but there were very few flowers in the aldermanic chamber today and from pit of the old common council chamber came "nary" a sound.

After the Mayor-elect had taken the oath of office, City Clerk Stephen Flynn called the roll and members of the municipal council answered as their names were called and the new members took the oath of office. Mayor Murphy's inaugural was more of a statement than an address and Commissioner Brown, too, read a paper.

Alderman Brown interrupted Commissioner Brown, interrupted Mayor Murphy, when the latter was reading his address to explain relative to the $100,000 loan voted by the 1913 government. Mayor Murphy had stated that the city's note for $100,000 to be paid on the temporary loan was in default and Mr. Brown stated there must be some misunderstanding as the government for 1913 had voted to pay the $100,000 on a two months' note.

"I will make that plain to you later," said Mr. Brown and the Mayor proceeded with his inaugural.

The municipal council chamber was filled to overflowing long before the hour set for the inaugural exercises and standing room in the gallery was at a premium. There was great applause when Mayor O'Donnell announced that Judge Enright was about to administer the oath of office to the Mayor-elect and more applause was accorded Mr. Murphy during the reading of his address. Commissioner Brown, too, was given a good hand when he finished reading his address.

At 10:40 o'clock Commissioner Carmichael moved adjournment to 11:45 and it was so voted. In the interim Mayor Murphy and the new commissioners met many of their friends and the greetings were very cordial. The

NATION-WIDE LABOR
STRIKE THREATENED

Charles H. Moyer Credited With
Saying That Gompers Will Visit
Washington to Consider Sympathetic Walkout

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—A meeting of the executive committee of the American Federation of Labor at Washington at which the Michigan copper strike will be considered will be called by Samuel Gompers, president of the organization.

This was learned from Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, here today. He was asked concerning rumors that an attempt would be made today to call a nation-wide strike in sympathy with the Michigan and Colorado miners.

"Any such demands must be made on the American Federation of Labor," he replied.

"Have you asked for a nation-wide strike?" he was asked.

"There has been considerable pressure exerted that such a demand be made. However, it may be said that our own plans are in status quo."

"I will confer tomorrow with Charles E. Mahoney, vice-president of our organization, and members of the executive board and we will determine what further action to take now."

Mr. Moyer has been unable to negotiate a peace plan and the governing body is about to make a personal investigation.

Moyer will leave the hospital this afternoon but his physicians have ordered him to rest quietly in his hotel for another week.

NO NEWS OF GENERAL STRIKE
WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Vice President O'Connell, the only official of the American Federation of Labor in town today, professed to know nothing of a special meeting of the executive council to act on the copper strike situation. President Gompers was expected at his office tonight. Vice President O'Connell indicated that he did not credit any proposal for a general strike.

AWAIT ARRIVAL OF GOVERNOR
CALUMET, Mich., Jan. 5.—Interest in the copper miners' strike in the northern peninsula today centered around the expected arrival here of Governor Ferris, who will endeavor to bring about a settlement of the prolonged strike called by the Western Federation of Miners. The governor will arrive in the strike zone but a few hours after the departure of John B. Densmore, solicitor for the department of labor, who returned to Washington after failing to bring together the opposing interests.

According to information received here, Governor Ferris started for the copper country early today from his home in Big Rapids. When he arrives here it is expected he will at once begin consultations with the labor leaders and mine operators. For some time the governor has been urged to make an investigation of the strike and conditions which caused it.

GOV. FERRIS TO STRIKE ZONE
BIG RAPIDS, Mich., Jan. 3.—Governor Ferris left here at 10 o'clock this morning for the copper mining district. He expected to reach his destination tonight. Before leaving, the governor notified James Cunningham, state labor commissioner, to meet him at Houghton.

YOUNG BURGLARS

Two Arrested in Drug Store—Son Robs His Father

Two of the most daring juvenile burglars which the local police have come in contact with for some time were captured about 1:30 o'clock this morning in the drug store of Wells Brothers on Bridge street by Officers Palmer and Ingalls. William Connolly, aged 16, and James M. Howard, only 13 years of age, were later learned to be the names of the two young burglars. The patrolmen nabbed them just after they had made their entrance. A razor and 12 cents were all that the boys had stolen here when they were placed under arrest.

Early last evening this same pair broke into the store of Amadee Canon and made quite a haul from the shelves of the place. Prayer books, rosary beads, jewelry, and various other goods were stolen, the whole valued at nearly $100.

The store of Jacob Tagg on Lakeview avenue is another place which Howard broke into although Connolly was not with him on this break. Tagg's place was entered about eight o'clock last night. Here Howard collected 100 boxes of cigars and an unopened box of cigars.

The two youths will be brought up before the juvenile session of police court on next Friday, charged with breaking, entering and larceny.

Arrested in Nashua

The police of Nashua arrested Louis Perreault and William Rivers yesterday afternoon upon the complaint of the local police and the two prisoners were sent to Lowell late last night. The charge against the two men was larceny from the father of Rivers.

Henry Rivers, the father, is an old man who has worked hard all his life and has managed to lay by a few dollars so as to make the last few years of his existence less arduous. His son, however, did not care whether his father went to the poor house or not when, with his companion, Perreault, he sneaked into his father's room at 10 o'clock Sunday morning and stole all the money that his father had secreted in his clothes. $120 was what the two thieves found.

Then Perreault and William Rivers

sallied forth on a good time. The pair hung around Lowell until nearly noon Sunday and then started for Manchester, N. H., thinking that they could not be arrested after they had crossed the line dividing the two states.

The pair got as far as Nashua when the thirst for beer overcame them and they proceeded to "liquor up." It was not long after this that the Nashua police received word from Supt. Welch to arrest the two thieves. Officer Mather found the two men waiting for the Manchester car and promptly placed them under arrest. Lieut. Martin, her later brought both men to Lowell.

Neither of the pair who committed the theft denied it, but each accused the other of being the plotter. The preponderance of evidence seemed to indicate, however, that the son was the one who laid all the plans to rob his father of his hard earned savings.

Both were arraigned in police court this morning. The father did not wish to testify against his son, but finally tottered over to the witness stand. With a choked utterance and a tear-dimmed eye the old man told how his son had always been a hindrance to him instead of a help. Perreault he did not know except that he was a worthless character who was in his son's company the greater part of the time.

"Be as easy as you can, Your Honor," said the old man as Judge Enright paused in his questioning and surveyed the two defendants. "All right, sir, I will," returned the court.

"Mr. Clerk, send them both to the house of correction for six months."

Perreault and Rivers both are old offenders before the local court and their reformation was considered improbable by Judge Enright.

STEVEFATHER HELD IN CONNE-
TION WITH DEATH OF NINE-
YEAR-OLD GIRL

SIMSBORE, Jan. 5.—Pending a result of a chemical analysis of the body of Mary Long, nine, Caspar Howell, the child's stepfather, is held here on a charge of murder. The child was struck by a train several days ago but she did not seem to be seriously hurt and when she was apparently near the point of recovery an attack of convulsions proved fatal.

The girl was buried but today the district judge ordered the body exhumed and the arrest of Howell.

Howell's wife, to whom he had been married only four months, returned to the home of a kinsman, Rev. W. T. Smith, after the child was buried.

BOSTON, Jan. 5.—Eight men were seriously injured at 2:30 a. m. yesterday in a head-on collision of electric cars on Tremont street, just above Washington street, Oak square, Brighton. The cars were running at high speed and the noise of the shock was heard several blocks away, awakening about everybody in the vicinity.

Both front vestibules were crunched into kindling wood. The cries of the injured and the crash of breaking glass brought hundreds to the scene at once, besides a score of railroad men from the car barns in Oak square, who were able to render prompt and efficient aid. Two physicians were on the ground and they attended the injured in the Oak square car barn. The injured are:

Peter F. Flynn, 27 years old, married, and living at 89 Gardner street, Newton, motorman on the inward bound car. He was promptly taken to the city hospital in the police ambulance, and found to have a comminuted fracture of both bones of the right leg and multiple injuries to the head and body.

PLAYHOUSE CLOSED
The Playhouse, where musical comedy has been proffered for the past few weeks, closed last Saturday evening after the regular performance. It is stated that the members of the company were aware of this for several days past and the reason given was that the public of Lowell does not take kindly to this amusement.

For some time the attendance at the Playhouse had been falling off, and when Commissioner Cummings asked that smoking be discontinued, the house abandoned the weed and the result was still smaller audiences.

There is a sharp curve at that point and the auto came at the little one before she had time to steer to one side. Neither did the auto have time to change its course. The child ran in the vicinity claim that the autoist did not sound the horn. The little girl was badly cut about the face and hand.

Don't Trust Calomel

Thousands Experience Bad After Effects From This Dangerous Drug

A Safe Vegetable Substitute for Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets for the Liver

Dr. F. M. Edwards, a prominent physician of Ohio, has discovered a laxative and liver tonic in a combination of vegetable materials mixed with olive oil, which is in effect almost exactly like calomel, except that there are none of the bad after effects of calomel.

Dr. Edwards has long been a foe of calomel, though he recognized its value along with its dangers.

His distrust of the uncertain drug eventually started him, years ago, towards experiments with the view of discovering a substitute, and he has been for several years in possession of the long-sought-for combination, which is in the shape of a little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablet.

The results of 1 year's experience and practice are embodied in these marvelous little tablets.

They are called Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, and they are on the liver has been the means of relief to many of Dr. Edwards' regular patients, as well as to thousands of others who have suffered and were afraid of calomel.

There is no necessity when you take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, by following them up with any sickening or gripping salts, or castor oil, as you do after taking calomel. Try them, 10c and 25c per box. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O. All druggists.

every lady attending the performance will be given another of those popular silk photographs, this time bearing the likeness of Nathaniel Rogers. Seats for all performances now on sale. Box office open from 10 a. m. Subscription list repeated.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE
Fifty blackface performers will appear at the B. F. Keith theatre, this week, in Russell's minstrel show, ought to provide as classy fare as we have known for a long time. Yes, there are 50 of them, although 45 of the 50 are painted on the big back drop. They are the best of the big minstrel company. Five of the 50 are human beings who have traveled far and near and have always pleased large audiences with their splendid singing and their rather pointed dancing.

Russell heads this collection and ought to mean a whole lot to those who are conversant with minstrelsy in the past 20 years. Mr. Russell is known as the speediest parodist who ever stood on the boards. He can put just timely words to the rhythm of any popular song, and put the whole over the footlights in a manner quite inimitable. He doesn't claim to be a poet, only a rhymer who decides once in a while to write a song.

In the company are four splendid singers who will warble to their hearts' content, sentimental and comic songs. The comic effects are first class in every particular and the act possesses that polish which proclaims it as something out of the ordinary. The minstrel first part will open with the melody overture of popular songs, by the entire company. Norman Stanley will then sing "Good Bye, My Love, Good Bye," after which Ed. Lacey, an excellent tenor, will give that old favorite, "When You and I Were Young, Maggie." The scarcely less known number, "Ad Long As the Shamrock Grows Green." Two comedy songs to be given are "You've Got to Hag It" and "Down in Chattahoochee" with Jack Kennedy using his splendid baritone. In the number, Jack Kennedy will then sing "To Have, to Hold, to Love" and "Across the Great Divide." Mr. Russell will appear in his original songs and comedy, and the show will close with the singing by the entire company of "Good Bye, Sal."

Mahoney and Tremont, a man and a woman, have been especially engaged and will add materially to the strength of the show. The pair have a skill which was written for them by a western newspaper man of much reputation. It is decided to be as perfect a comedy, with serious sidelights, as has been placed on the vaudeville stage in a long time. Mahoney was for a number of years a member of the Frohman forces and Miss Tremont was known as a singer with several of the St. Louis companies. The act will bear watching as it is decided to be the best of its kind seen in the east in many months.

"Prize Centre" is the title of the act little known to be played by Rosh and McCarty. This is a real firecracker, and in this play which was connected by them they portray a pair of real backwoods characters. They have taken their conceptions from first hand observations.

Tom Smith and Harry Madison will also provide laugh-convulsers of the first water. They are newcomers to the local stage, and will bring with them a freshness which will make them instant favorites. The Alpine troupe of wire walkers, five in number, have been with Ringling Brothers' circus for a number of seasons, and may be depended upon to cause plenty of thrills. Artilda and Elvina, senoritas from the Argentine Republic, will give the dances which have of recent months delighted European and American audiences, and Bob Hardis is an instrumentalist of worth. The Pathe Weekly pictures may be secured at the box office in advance. Phone 28.

OPERA HOUSE

"BOUGHT AND PAID FOR"

A distinguished critic has written of "Bought and Paid For," which is to be presented at the Opera House Wednesday evening, Jan. 14, that it "interests all who are married and all who intend to get married," which is a way of saying it interests everybody. The recipe is simple, the plays tell a story we see in life almost daily and it is unfolded by characters we have met and talked with hundreds of times.

A film in five masterful parts, which has been heralded as the world's greatest spectacular war drama, "Victory," is the feature offering at the Opera House today. This sensational photo-play was staged with American warships and was equipped, and includes in its cast Secretary Daniels, Admiral Bagley, Commander Benson, Commander Basset, Lieutenant Commander Butler, Flag Lieutenant McCullough, Capt. Bryant, Commander Doyle and Lieut. John H. Towers, the naval aviator who was killed in an accident recently. Part of this five-reel thriller is a blood-hardening plot to blow up the American fleet in a Cuban harbor. Then there is the woman in the case who defects the plot and tells it to the naval aviator, who with true patriotic spirit, does a hundred mile flight, reaching the fleet just in time to save it from the terrific mine explosion. Lieut. Towers is shown as the hero of the aerial flight and among the warships seen are the Pacific, Castine, Maine, New York, Yankeetown and Tonopah. The scene of most of the picture is at Guantanamo, the Cuban station of the Atlantic fleet. In addition to the above war drama will be seen "A Waif of the Plains" from the house of Warner, depicting life in the far west during the pioneer days, making the biggest and best picture show that was ever offered in this city for any price.

THEATRE VOYONS
One of the prettiest scenes ever set for a motion picture is seen in the picture entitled "A Woman Wills," now being shown at the Voyons. This scene is taken at the great dress ball that is an annual event in Rome, Italy. Another scene that will attract more than ordinary attention is the great gambling scene, showing the big faro tables and the society people of the city enjoying themselves. This story is about a man, a girl, an adventure and a love, and the great Italian lottery and the photography and stage settings are magnificent.

STEAMER SINKS
NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—A wireless message, received here last night by the agents of the Campanian Transatlantica, said that the steamer Manuel Calvo, of that line was on her way into port, towing a disabled tank steamer, when at a point 15 miles east of Sandy Hook the tank steamer sank. The Manuel Calvo lost one lifeboat, the dispatcher said. There was no mention of any loss of life, nor was the name of the tank steamer given.

Can't Afford It?

Let's figure it out and see

How much would you charge to go to the grocer's or the provision dealer's?

How much would you give, on a visit, to be able to visit a distant friend?

How much would it be worth, in case your child were taken suddenly ill at night, to be able to summon the doctor at once, and, perhaps, by special instructions from him by wire, to be able to give temporary relief pending his arrival or even to save its life?

The expense of a telephone is not figured by what it costs for a whole year, but by how much it saves each time it is used. Therefore, with all these things in mind, ask yourself

Can I Afford to Be Without a Telephone?

If you need further details as to cost, ask the Manager.

FIRE AUTO STRUCK POLE

Dist. Chief Crowley Had Narrow Escape on Going to Fire—Several Other Alarms

While responding to box 27 yesterday forenoon District Chief Daniel Crowley barely escaped serious injury when his machine brought up hard against a trolley pole at the corner of Central and Merrimack streets. His quick action with the emergency brake served to slow up the car considerably before the collision occurred, but even at that Mr. Crowley was severely shaken up by the crash of the machine against the pole.

The district chief was attempting to round the corner of Central street from Merrimack at a high rate of speed but an electric car interfered with his maneuvers. His car first struck the fender of the electric as he rounded the blind corner at the junction of Central and Merrimack and then headed directly for the trolley pole located at this spot.

Chief Crowley threw on his emergency brakes but his car was under such a headway that it could not be checked before it struck the pole. The machine had its mud guards bent, but beyond that was not injured.

The fire to which the district chief was hastening was in the Appleton bank. It was a small blaze in a waste basket and no damage was done before it was extinguished.

Box 5 called the department out to a barber shop in Esal Merrimack street where a brisk blaze kept the firemen busy for some time. The fire had gotten into the partition and for this reason proved very stubborn. The first alarm rang in at 2 o'clock and another one at 5 o'clock called out the department again. This time the roof was afire, caused by the dropping of sparks from a nearby chimney. Little damage was done by the second blaze.

A small blaze on Front street caused box 62 to ring yesterday afternoon, but little harm was done by the flames. A telephone alarm at 5 o'clock yesterday morning was occasioned by a small fire in Lincoln hall on Gorham street. There was but slight damage done to the building.

On account of the increasing demand for an early edition of The Sun, a noon edition is now issued daily. It is on sale by newsboys and at all news stands.

Here's to You and Me and POSTUM

—the pure food-drink that meets the desire of young and old for a palatable table beverage which is wholesome and satisfying.

Postum is made only of clean, hard wheat and a small per cent. of New Orleans molasses. It tastes much like the higher grades of Java, but is absolutely free from caffeine, the drug in coffee, which causes so much headache, sleeplessness, indigestion, nervousness and heart trouble.

Coffee drinkers can learn something of value by a 10 days' change to Postum.

Then, as the coffee poison is eliminated from the system, the brain works clear, nerves become steady, and the gradual return of peace and comfort will show plainly

"There's a Reason" for POSTUM

Postum now comes in two forms:

Regular Postum—must be boiled 15 to 20 minutes.

Instant Postum—is a soluble powder. A scant teaspoonful stirred in a cup of hot water dissolves instantly.

The convenience of Instant Postum is apparent. But, when prepared according to directions, both kinds are exactly the same. The cost per cup is about equal.

—Grocers everywhere sell both kinds.

MANSLAUGHTER CHARGED

Case of Geo. L. Erb Continued— Trio Arrested in Billerica Were Charged With Entering Camp

The case of George L. Erb, charged with manslaughter, was continued for four weeks. Erb is charged with causing the death of Merrill Woodward who died from injuries received when the defendant's automobile struck him. The case was continued pending the finding on the inquest.

Officers Conway and Livingston of Billerica had three defendants in court this morning. John M. Young, Robert Hudson and William Hudson were all charged with breaking and entering a camp on the Concord river. It is claimed by the police that the three defendants stole a kit of carpenter's tools from the camp. Their case was continued until Wednesday.

Edmund Flynn was charged with non-support of his child and drunkenness.

His sister told the court that she has been supporting the child and that her brother does not take any interest in his offspring. Flynn, she said, cared more for his liquor than he did for the child and she thought that the court ought to take some action in the matter.

The defendant was brought out of the cage and given a severe lecture by Judge Enright. The court first sentenced him to serve four months in the house of correction but later suspended the sentence upon Flynn's promise to pay three dollars every week toward his child's support.

The case of Benjamin Snyder, charged with assault and battery upon his wife, was continued until a week from today. This case promises some unusual developments when it comes up for trial.

Officer John H. Clark picked up Rose Provencier on Middlesex street Saturday night in a drunken condition. The officer told Judge Enright that the defendant was doing her best to flirt with the men whom she met on the street. Rose will spend the next three months in a large stone building on Thorndike street.

John McAuley made his fourth appearance for drunkenness within the year and was granted with a four month jail sentence. Elizabeth Clark received a fine of $5 for drunkenness. Probation Officer Slatery released eight first offenders.

ARMSTRONG, NEW YALE COACH, WILL DROP ENGLISH STROKE

DICK
ARMSTRONG

Dick Armstrong, the former Yale oarsman, has been selected as the chief coach for the New Haven oarsmen for this year. He is expected to drop the use of the English stroke and adopt the American style favored by Coach Courtney of Cornell and Ten Eyck of Syracuse.

INAUGURATION DAY

the board to service in the absence of the mayor, and Col. Carmichael was elected. Mr. Carmichael voted for Mr. Brown.

Com. Carmichael thanked the members for the honor bestowed upon him and hoped, he said, that he would be able to serve faithfully and efficiently.

Assignment of Departments
The board then proceeded to the assignment of departments. The first department taken up was finance, and George H. Brown was the unanimous choice.

The next up was the department of streets and highways, and Charles J. Morse was unanimously elected.

The next department to be supplied with a governing head was water and fire departments, and Col. James H. Carmichael was elected unanimously.

The department of public property and licenses was the next, and James E. Donnelly was the unanimous choice. He will succeed Mr. Cummings, and Mr. Carmichael will succeed Mr. Barrett.

Appointments Are Postponed
William J. Cormier was named for constable.

Col. Carmichael said: "We ought to be a little careful about appointing constables, so that they would not interfere with lawyers. I would rather have them all go over for a day and let the matter of the selections rest with the mayor."

"I do not wish to oppose applicants but to support principles. I don't believe men should be oppressed by constables and their money held up when satisfactory adjustment could be made without such interference."

All applications for appointments for constable went over until tomorrow.

Surveyors Appointed
The mayor said there were the names of a number of applicants before him for surveyors, measures of wood, etc. All of them were confirmed.

The petition of Joseph Welch and others, opposed to the watering of Chelmsford street was referred to the commissioners of streets and highways. Other minor petitions were properly referred.

John F. Donnelly is candidate for registrar of voters and he had a communication in concerning it. The matter was placed on file.

Various petitions having to do with pole locations and wire attachments were referred.

At 12:15 the council adjourned to meet tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock.

Mayor Murphy's Address
Mayor Murphy's inaugural included a financial statement of the city on Jan. 1, 1913. The inaugural:

We meet here this morning to institute a new administration of affairs for the city of Lowell and to take up the burdens of official responsibility which we voluntarily assume in response to the demands of a constituency that has honored us with an expression of their confidence and trust.

We meet here upon a common ground, with equal opportunities and responsibilities. Our objects should be one and the same, that of the highest good of the city and the welfare of all the people.

Lowell, in common with other cities and towns, must change its financial system if laws passed by the general court are to be lived up to.

Many years ago, before the passage of existing laws and the passage of am. Therefore, let us try honestly to treat all matters with that fairness and broadness of mind that we would apply in deciding matters of great importance connected with our own affairs or our own business, so that the duties entrusted to our care by the citizens of our city shall be ably and wisely performed for the good and benefit of all, and for the credit of Lowell.

In appropriating money for the various departments and for the public work of the city we should always bear in mind that we are spending other people's money as well as a portion of our own; that the distribution of our city's money should be fair and equitable, neither lavish on the one hand nor stinting on the other.

The determining factor should always be that true economy is for the general good of all the people, not only for today, but for next year, and the years that are to follow.

Many improvements and changes may be desired and urged for our favorable consideration, but we should never forget that what people desire and what is expedient are two different propositions, and we should be guided by expediency. We should have that which we need and can afford, but we must do without that which we may desire but cannot afford.

Every government has had the financial problem to take up. Municipal financing has been the most frequent and most vexatious problem to be taken up by incoming administrations. I feel that I indulge in no exaggeration and labor under no misconception, when I declare that nothing of a financial nature ever confronted a municipal council of the city of Lowell with greater weight or more pressing force than the problem of making both ends meet in receipts and expenditures.

Lowell, in common with other cities and towns, must change its financial system if laws passed by the general court are to be lived up to.

Many years ago, before the passage of existing laws and the passage of

COMFORT

IN SHOPPING AT
A.E. O'Heir & Co.'s

MODEL FURNITURE STORE

Every part of our five floors is well heated; most furniture stores are not heated above the first floor. This not only means uncomfortable shopping, but it means dangerous vermin that soon shows up when you get the furniture in a well heated house. A modern Otis Electric Elevator connects all floors, so climbing of stairs here. Splendid light in day time in every part of the store, as there is an open space on the four sides of our building and the finest lighting system at night. In fact everyone who knows declares our store the most perfect plant for handling customers and goods in New England. We own it. No rent to pay. Not half the expense of downtown locations. We can and do give lower prices. Don't buy furniture till you have looked over amendments to existing laws, the general court fixed the arbitrary rate of $12.00 per thousand, which may be raised for current expenses in this city by a tax levy.

These changed conditions must be met. Legislative enactments and local demands have steadily and permanently increased the fixed charges. In the meantime, the principal source of revenue has remained the tax levy fixed by the general court at $12 per thousand.

Improvements have and must be made in a growing city, and these improvements and additions to the plant have to be paid for as much as the current expenses.

The increase in the mandatory expenses and fixed charges have exhausted the amount raised by the $12 tax, and practically all additions to our city are now being paid for by the proceeds of loans, which have become an annual increasing mortgage on the municipality.

While it is true that the tax rate of the city may be raised somewhat if we change this $12 rate on the thousand, nevertheless, the final result will mean the inauguration of a pay-as-you-go policy, and I believe the honest fair-minded tax payer would rather pay a slight increase in his tax rate than have the municipal council borrow thousands of dollars in loans, upon which a large amount of interest must be paid. The amount of interest which has become a fixed charge upon the city of Lowell would be almost enough to run our buildings and charities department.

Municipal Finances
The following is a financial statement of the city as it stands on Jan. 1, 1914:

Pool Tables for Schools

"CLEVELAND, Dec. 28.—A resolution providing for the installation in school basements of bowling alleys and pool and billiard rooms will be introduced before the new Cleveland board of education at an early meeting. Mrs. Arnold Green, a board member, has announced that she will be sponsor for the resolution."

THE foregoing is from a news dispatch taken from a recent issue of The Sun.

THE item explains itself—it gives evidence of the preference of Progressive Cleveland for pool and billiards as clean indoor games and suitable for her youths.

MANY are inclined to look with horror upon pool and billiards as amusements for young men. This view is unexplained and unreasonable.

IN Lowell, Henry Carr, observing each minute detail of the law, conducts a commendable house of amusement. During its 10 years history, "Carr's" has enjoyed an enviable record. As a result of conscientious management, its patronage has been large.

AMUSEMENT of a clean nature is essential to young and old. It is found in Lowell at

Prolonged Struggle is Threatened—Plans for Settlement Fail

HOUGHTON, Mich., Jan. 5.—Negotiations for the settlement of the copper miners' strike having failed, both sides to the controversy last night began to lay plans for meeting a prolongation of the struggle.

Governor Foran last night decided to make a personal inspection of the conditions prevailing in the copper region while John H. Cushman, solicitor for the department of labor, started to Washington, regretting his failure to bring about a settlement.

Great interest was aroused in the upper peninsula last night by the announcement that the governor was coming to take a hand in the situation at close quarters.

GAVE ENJOYABLE CONCERT
BAND OF COUNTY TRAINING SCHOOL GAVE FINE PROGRAM AT TOWN HALL

That the work of the boys of the Middlesex County Training school band is appreciated by the people of North Chelmsford and vicinity was clearly shown last night when the town hall was packed with people gathered to listen to the concert given by the members of the band and Glee club, connected with the school.

The concert was arranged and conducted by the leader of the band, James F. Larkin, to whom nothing but words of praise can be given for the excellent program furnished. The boys have been heard on many occasions but never to such advantage as last night for they seemed to show their best work and the careful training that they have received under their director, James F. Larkin. The members of the Glee club have never been heard in public before but the ovation they received showed the audience appreciated their work under the direction of Albert Brown. Many times during the program the boys were obliged to respond to encores. The gallery was reserved for the other boys at the school who were privileged to attend the concert.

The program was as follows: March band; "Stars of Summer Night," Glee club; overture; band; quartet for brass instruments; Masters Goldspring, Murphy, Peckes and Silva; (a) "Home-land Bound," Glee club; waltz; band; "Cuban Intermezzo," Glee club; "The Willow Nook," Glee club; "Silent Night," Glee club; march; band; (a) "Like," (b) "Hot Porridge," band; "Humorous," band; "The Freight," Glee club; "Indian Patrol," band; hymn; Glee club; march; band; "America," everybody.

TRAPSHOOTER DEAD
NEWBURYPORT, Jan. 5.—J. Cushing Todd, at one time national trap-shooter, died here yesterday. He was 41 years old.

APPOINTED NEW OFFICERS
From the civil service list Mayor O'Donnell, on Saturday, made the following appointments to the supernumerary force of the police department: Fréchet, Anthony Clark and Samuel McElroy.

UNDOING WORK OF PREDECESSOR
Mayor Murphy's first official act was to undo the action of former Mayor James E. O'Donnell in appointing an inspector of plumbing and three women assistants at the Chelmsford street hospital.

From the multiplicity of candidates for the different positions at city hall, one would infer that the purpose of the new city government was chiefly to reward political friends, even at the expense of faithful and competent officials. One of the objects of the commission form of government is to promote continuity in office and business methods to the exclusion of political. Is the city going to gain anything by throwing out a competent official like Michael J. Dowd, superintendent of charities, simply to punish him for being a friend of former Mayor O'Donnell, or to reward another man for being a hater of the election of the present mayor? Is the city going to gain by removing Purchasing Agent Foye because a certain business man who was an ardent supporter of the new mayor has a candidate who, perhaps, would look with exclusive favor upon his particular line of supplies?

From the investigations made by me and from talks with Mr. Gettemy the city of Lowell should go to the Legislature.

WILL NOT FLEE TO U. S.

Continued

and escort from Chihuahua City citizens who feared they would be murdered by Villa. We selected Ojinaga because it is one of the best natural fortifications in the world. It also offered a source of communication with Mexico City, as well as a port through which we might import provisions. Our position here is impregnable. We have ample stores of ammunition and more than fifty field pieces. Our losses have been greatly under those of the rebels.

Will Not Cross Border
"Ortega, who came to attack us on orders from Villa, thought his presence would cause us to flee to the United States. He was surprised when we resisted him. Our four thousand loyal soldiers, because of our superior fortifications, are able to resist 10,000 rebels, and there are not that many rebels in the north. Each of us is ready to die should that be necessary and if we evacuate this place it will not be to a foreign country."

General Castro's interview was given in a quaint plaster house on the Plaza which has been under almost continuous firing for a week. As he talked the cannonading and rattle of infantry and General Ortega's rebel army to the west of the village was audible.

For a short time bursting shrapnel was scattering a shower of bullets about the village. Dead soldiers lying unburied in the outer trenches and hundreds of living soldiers on duty for a week without sleep were some of the scenes witnessed today in an inspection of this frontier village, 67 miles from a railroad which has become the battle ground of a possible final conflict for the possession of the north. So far neither side has made material headway except in the drain on the federal ammunition by the rebels. A few of the adobe houses used as federal forts have been demolished and the damage to fortifications made of dirt has been casual.

Patrol Taken Precautions
Despite assurances of General Castro and Salazar that the federals had no desire to flee to the United States in case of utter defeat, the United States patrol did not slacken its precautions taken with a view to that emergency. Already about 500 federal deserters have crossed and either have been disarmed and sent back or have escaped into Texas. Because of the tendency of both the contending armies across the river from President to send their wounded to the American side to be cared for, the Red Cross today wired Ernest P. Bloknell, the national director to provide more hospital supplies. The message said hundreds of wounded might have to be cared for ultimately.

REBELS FRUSTRATE ATTEMPT OF FEDERALS TO MARCH ON DURANGO

JUAREZ, Mexico, Jan. 6.—Another attempt of federals under General

Ricardo Pona at Torreon to march on the city of Durango, which is held by the rebels, was frustrated by rebel troops under Calixto Contreras and Jose Arrieta, who attacked and defeated them last Friday in a battle near San Carlos, Durango, eight miles from Torreon, according to an official message received last night by General Bonavides, commander at Juarez. The message, which was telegraphed to Juarez via the city of Durango, said the federal losses amounted to 31 killed and 23 prisoners. Pona's forces retreated to Torreon.

VESSELS IN DISTRESS
MANY FIGHTING STORMY SEAS TO SAVE BOATS AND CREWS, REPORT WIRELESS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Wireless reports from points between Cape Hatteras and Baltimore, received at revenue cutter headquarters today, tell of vessels in distress and of fights in stormy seas to save them and their crews. The cutter Seminole on her way from Norfolk to Wilmington, N. C., found the schooner Thomas Winsor in distress near Lookout Blight below Cape Hatteras and is standing by. An attempt was made today to reach the cutter Onondaga by wireless so that she might stop long enough on her way from Norfolk to Cape May to help the barge John B. Sage, reported adrift near Cobble Island in the vicinity of Cape Cod. Information here is to the effect that the two men who made up the crew of the Sage have been saved but the service desires to get the barge out of the way of traffic.

The revenue cutter Androscoggin went aground off Cove Point in the Chesapeake bay, about 16 miles from Baltimore, early today while running in thick weather. Captain Hall made no report of the condition of his ship in wireless to revenue cutter headquarters. Captain Ueberroth ordered the cutter Apache to the Androscoggin's assistance.

CAMP SITE FOR U. S. TROOPS
WINCHESTER, Va., Jan. 6.—The federal government has leased approximately 1500 acres of land near here which will be used next summer as camp site for the federal troops which will take part in the military maneuvers.

IN CATHOLIC CHURCHES

Preparations Being Made for Holy Name Feast Day - News of the Parishes

With the beginning of the new year the various societies of the Catholic churches of the city are growing active and a great many special meetings and parish reunions are scheduled to take place in the near future. At practically all the masses yesterday special meetings of the Holy Name society were announced in the various parishes for the purpose of making plans for the monster union service which is to take place in St. Michael's on Jan. 18th. This service is the local celebration of the observance by His Eminence, Cardinal O'Connell.

St. Patrick's
High mass at St. Patrick's church was celebrated yesterday by Rev. Joseph Curran and the sermon was preached by Rev. Timothy Callahan who took the story of the gospel of the day for his theme. He dwelt on the lessons of the visit of the Magi to the cave at Bethlehem and of the star that led them through lonely wastes and dangerous lands. All Christians, he said, seek Christ the Savior and Redeemer, and with eyes lifted to heaven we follow the star of faith which will lead us to the glorified home where He waits to welcome us. The guests brought by the three wise men, he said, are symbols of the virtues of the Christian heart which seeks Christ with the proper spirit.

It was announced that there will be a meeting of the ladies aid society Tuesday evening for the purpose of discussing important business matters for the coming year.

It was also announced that there will be an entertainment in the St. Patrick's boys' school next Friday afternoon and evening in which a large group of the pupils will take part. The afternoon affair will be for the younger portion of the community and the evening performance for the grown-ups of the parish.

Immaculate Conception
The high mass of the Immaculate Conception church was celebrated yesterday by Rev. John O'Brien, M. I. Rev. Fr. Dennis Sullivan, O. M. I., preached an eloquent sermon on the lessons of the feast of Epiphany. His picture of the long journey of the three kings was filled with beautiful imagery and the culmination of their quest in the sight of a lowly babe in a manger was dwelt on with tenderness. Fr. Sullivan also took occasion to blend with his sermon some timely advice for the guidance of the parishioners for the coming year.

The most important announcement was the fact of a special meeting of the Holy Name society to be held Thursday evening for the purpose of perfecting plans for the union service to be held in St. Michael's church on Jan. 18th. The music at yesterday's service was unusually spirited.

St. Peter's
Rev. W. George Mullin celebrated high mass at St. Peter's church yesterday, and Rev. Daniel J. Heffernan preached an eloquent and instructive sermon on the gospel of the day.

The observance of the feast of the Holy Name in this parish on Jan. 18th will be marked by the attendance of the members of the society at holy communion and the holding of a breakfast later in Lincoln hall. The occasion is expected to be a noteworthy one in the history of this society. The chaplain, Rev. Fr. Burns, expects every member to join in making the occasion a real manifestation of respect for the name of Jesus. In the evening in common with the other Holy Name societies of the parish, the members will attend the union service at St. Michael's, and it is confidently expected by the clergy of St. Peter's that their parish will have the largest representation.

Rev. James F. Lynch, formerly attached to St. Margaret's church in the Highlands, will be the preacher at the Holy Name service in St. Mary's church, Ave. C, Sunday, Jan. 15, at 8:30 o'clock and in the evening will deliver the sermon at the services in Groton.

At the union Holy Name services to be held in Waltham by the Waltham and Waterdown societies, Rev. John T. Ryan of Roxbury, formerly of St. Peter's church, this city, will be the preacher. Rev. Fr. O'Brien is recognized as one of the ablest pulpits orators in the archdiocese, and his sermon on the principles of the Holy Name society will undoubtedly be an eloquent exposition of Christian truth.

St. Margaret's
The parish mass at St. Margaret's church was celebrated yesterday by the pastor, Rev. Galligan, who took occasion to thank the people for their support of the church during the year and to outline plans for the future.

A meeting of the Holy Name society was called for the afternoon to make plans for the union services in St. Michael's in common with the other parishes.

The parish reunion, partaking of the nature of a lawn party, will take place in Associate hall on Jan. 14th. There will be two concert performances, one in the afternoon for the children and one in the evening for the older people of the parish. The plans for the affair

FOR BUSINESS FREEDOM ACCUSED AS SPY

Dorothea M'Vane, an American Singer, Held in Italy.

ROME, Jan. 5.—The harassment by the Italian government as a suspected military spy of Dorothea MacVane, the American opera singer, is described in a written statement by Miss MacVane's sister, Edith, the novelist. The statement is based on letters received as "stockholders' inertia" was the chief preventive of immediate reform, according to the speaker.

"It is one of the best known and safest factors in corporate management, and the one on which the banking interests can most safely rely. It survives dishonesty, mismanagement and every form of corporate abuse. It is insurable and immovable. It is more than all the other causes combined responsible for corporate distrust and the ills from which we are now suffering."

"Nothing is to be gained by reprisals in the way of criminal prosecutions for violations that were committed before the courts had construed the law as we now understand it and that have been remedied or definitely abandoned. There should be complete amnesty and a clear slate so far as concerns criminal prosecutions as to those of the past."

He criticized the Standard Oil as "farce" and that of the Union and Southern Pacific as "not much of an improvement."

"The superstructure was changed," he said, "but the common foundation and the basis of control has been permitted to stand."

NORTHBORO, Vt., Jan. 5.—Fred Carlos Slack, aged 51, an insurance broker, who was for many years engaged in the butcher business in this town, was arrested shortly before noon yesterday on a charge of attempted extortion. The two men have known each other for many years and were on friendly terms. Slack is connected with a prominent family here and has always borne an excellent reputation in a business and social way.

LIMIT OF 15 INCHES FOR SLITS

MIDDLEBORO, Jan. 5.—Middleboro's chief of police, Harry W. Swift, is the first minion of the law to define strictly the difference between propriety and impropriety so far as slit skirts are concerned. A slit that travels perpendicularly and measures over 15 inches is just cause. Chief Swift believes for the inhabitants of Middleboro to become unduly convicted by any feminine wearer must take a chance of being haled into court on a charge of disturbing the peace if she essays to tread local highways with a slit skirt that exceeds the linear limit placed by him.

TANGO BARRED

Denounced by Clergymen in Saint Mary's Church, Cambridge

BOSTON, Jan. 6.—The clergy of St. Mary's parish, Cambridge, at all the masses yesterday, denounced as immoral and unfit the "tango" and other so-called "animal dances," and notice was given that St. Mary's hall, in the Catholic Association building, would be closed to dancing parties unless positive assurances were given that the dances would be barred from the program.

St. Mary's hall is one of the largest in the city, and is frequently used for dances. Last Friday a dance of the civil service class of the association was held there. It is understood that there were a few who were called to account for questionable dancing and told to stop.

Following the news of the episode, the announcement from the altar yesterday created considerable interest. Rev. Mr. Deady, R. T., and his associates spoke of the widespread campaign against improper dances, referring to Cardinal Farley in New York and others who are in a crusade against the dances.

Parents were urged to show interest and instruct their children to help out by putting the ban on such dances in clubs and organizations to which they may belong.

Rev. Fr. Deady yesterday afternoon said: "We are trying to form a strong and healthy opinion among our parishioners against these dances. We want the fathers and mothers in St. Mary's parish to take a stand against them."

"Some months ago I spoke about the improper dances and the announcement made today is in keeping with my action. St. Mary's hall is used often for parties, and while there have been no flagrant cases of questionable dances there have been one or two occasions on which we felt that it would be well to have it understood that we would not countenance such actions."

"Our announcement is not intended to criticize any committees which have had dances in charge in the past. We simply in view of the widespread movement against these dances, wish it understood that St. Mary's hall will not be allowed for any but proper dances, and we will decline to let the hall unless we have assurances to this effect."

Mayor Barry, who was present at one of the masses, said yesterday: "I am in thorough sympathy with the clergy. We need their cooperation and cooperation of the people in stopping these questionable dances. We have appointed an inspector of dance halls, and I believe he has done good work in bringing about reforms and improvements."

"Young folks can't as well dance proper dances as otherwise, and I hope that in Cambridge they will set a good example for other cities."

A few weeks ago Commissioners Cunningham investigated regulations for dance halls, among which was a warning that improper dancing would not be tolerated and persons so indulging would be immediately ejected. Moonlight dances and shadow lighting effects have been barred, pass-out checks forbidden and minors under 17, unless accompanied by parents or guardians, prevented from attending. An officer is detailed to all dances.

It is believed she went to Denver.

DRIVE OUT LABOR LEADERS
Taxpayers' League Sends Seven From Colorado Strike Area—Further Action Suspended

STEAMBOAT SPRINGS, Colo., Jan. 5.—Aroused by the turmoil in which Oak Creek, Summit Springs, and other centers of strike activity in the northern Colorado coal fields are being kept by the strike of the United Mine Workers of America, 1000 members of the Rout County Taxpayers' league yesterday caused seven officers of the organization to leave Oak Creek and on Saturday night issued an ultimatum directing that 15 other so-called "agitators" leave the district within 24 hours or they would be deported.

The action of the league stirred up hostilities in the section of the strike zone that Sheriff Chivington called upon Governor Ammons for troops.

The governor communicated with the district attorney and members of the league and as a result the terms of the ultimatum were suspended at a conference between members of the league and representatives of the union.

22 MEN PERISHED AT SEA

The Tank Steamer Oklahoma in Trouble off Sandy Hook—8 of Crew of 30 Rescued

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—The tank steamer in trouble off Sandy Hook yesterday was the Oklahoma and 22 of her crew apparently perished. Eight were saved.

This was the substance of wireless messages received here today.

Although several vessels were standing by the tank steamer, the Hamburg-American line freighter Davaria, bound from Philadelphia to Boston, was the only one able to render assistance. She reported by wireless shortly after 9 o'clock this morning that she had been able to take off Captain Alfred Gunther, Chief Mate Iversen, Second Mate Knute Dahl, Third Mate Karl Ecklund, Operator William Davis, Headman Christian Rasmussen, Quartermaster Hamilton Powell and Herman Erickson, the ship's carpenter. No mention was made of the remainder of the crew, 30 in number. The Oklahoma, owned by the J. M. Guffey Petroleum Co., was 2755 tons net and 419 feet long. She left here Saturday for Port Arthur, Tex.

WARNS FEDERAL LEAGUE

August Herrmann Tells Outlaws Not to Infringe on Clubs in National Agreement

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Jan. 5.—A distinct warning to the Federal league not to infringe on what clubs in the National Agreement consider their rights, is given in the annual report of August Herrmann, chairman of the national baseball commission, made public here today.

"The Federal league, which operated clubs in 1913 in territory occupied by the national agreement clubs, did not attain prosperity or prestige," the report says. "A passive policy has been pursued by the commission and the league directly affected toward the organization, but if the contractual and reservation rights of the National Agreement clubs are not respected by its (Federal league) promoters, it may become necessary to employ strenuous measures for the protection of the interests of major and minor league clubs.

"Privately will not be resented so long as league and club rights are not ignored, but illegal and unsportsmanlike interference with, and utter disregard of established privileges of National Agreement clubs will justify the adoption of vigorous defensive methods.

Herrmann's statement is regarded as the answer of organized baseball to the projects of the Federal league, whose spokesmen, including James A. Gilmore, have declared that while they respect actual playing contracts held by National Agreement clubs, they will disregard the much-discussed reserve clause, which they hold to be illegal.

Touching on the Gallagher resolution in the house of representatives at Washington, the report says:

"The introduction of the Gallagher resolution in the house of representatives was the forerunner to newspaper

FEDERALS WILL NOT FLEE

Commanders of Huerta's Army Say They Will Die Fighting—Ojinaga Bombarded

OJINAGA, Mexico, Jan. 5, via army line to Marfa.—All doubt as to the intention of the Mexican federal army to defeat the rebels or to stay here until every soldier was dead, was dispelled by Gen. Francisco Castro, leader of the general federal troops, and General Salazar, commander of the federal volunteers, in interviews at headquarters today. Retreat of federal soldiers across the border to the United States territory would be induced only by some unexpected development, according to the two commanders, and even if all soldiers deserted, the generals say, they would remain to die at their posts.

200 FRENCH RESIDENTS TOOK OUT FIRST PAPERS SINCE THE LAST ELECTION—MORE COMING

The members of the permanent naturalization committee, held an enthusiastic meeting yesterday afternoon at the Pawtucketville social club, and the hall was filled to its capacity. All the members of the committee were present, and several matters of importance were discussed. President Oliva Polier occupied the chair.

It was reported by the committee, that since the last municipal elections, already 200 French Americans desiring to become naturalized citizens, have taken out their first papers, and about 45 have received their final papers.

There was great enthusiasm manifested at this declaration.

The results were certainly gratifying to all, and it is expected that three times that number and even more will take out their first papers this year. The committee has given much of its time to the work of increasing the list of French voters and is having good success.

The committee is making preparations for a general canvass of all the French families, and the members will take a census of all those who should be naturalized. In this way, they expect to add a good many more names to their already considerable list and eventually to get everybody who is eligible.

The next meeting of the committee will take place at the C. M. A. C. hall next Sunday afternoon, and it is expected that a large number will be present.

WHIPPING POST

Mrs. Smith Wants it Re-lived—Ship Pretty Girl West, She Says

BOSTON, Jan. 5.—That 20,000 women in Boston are supporting idle, drunken, able bodied husbands by running boarding houses is the statement made yesterday by Mrs. Charlotte Smith, the well known social worker, who recently placed the value of a husband at $100, a baby at $2 and a wife at less than nothing.

"These men don't work three months in the year, but walk the streets, come home drunk and give their wives a brutal beating very frequently," said Mrs. Smith.

When asked what would be a good way to break these men of their bad habits, she said: "Revive the whipping post. On New Year's eve instead of having fireworks in Boston Common bring these men there and give them a sound beating. I think that after a good lashing they would do better. Give the 'bums' the lash or the whipping post and they will skip the town."

"I've got more respect for an animal than I have for a 'brute man,' for an animal will never desert its offspring, but these brute men will," she declared. "There is no wonder that women with such husbands would dispose of them for 25 or 30 cents, and even as low as 15 cents. Many of these husbands make a large salary but do not give a cent of it to their wives. Women would be glad to have such men auctioned off and they wouldn't bring 25 cents apiece. I offer my services as an auctioneer to sell them."

Mrs. Smith, who conducts a marriage bureau, stated that she was going to ship all the good looking Boston girls west and leave all of the bachelors and spinsters here to fight it out amongst themselves. She said this would be the only way to keep the girls from marrying the idle men in Boston.

"Men are all going to the dogs because of drink and other causes," she declared. "Society is paying $3,000,000 per year to Boston women who are able bodied and will not work."

"Of course the husbands who cannot get work are all right and should not be punished. There are three kinds of husbands, brutes, good men and slaves. I have no respect for either the brute or the slave, and would recommend that both of them be lashed at the whipping post."

THE LADIES' OF CHARITY

HELD BUSINESS MEETING AND ELECTED OFFICERS—CAMPAIGN TO PAY FOR X-RAY MACHINE

The Ladies of Charity of St. John's hospital held a well attended meeting yesterday afternoon. Prior to the business meeting the members of the society attended benediction in the beautiful chapel connected with the institution which is still resplendent in its Christmas adornments. The service was conducted by Rev. Fr. Phelan, O. M. I., and a special musical program of rare merit was given by a choir under the direction of Miss Minnie Davis, who presided at the organ. A feature of the singing was the beautiful hymn, "Mother of Christ," sung by Miss Florence McFarlane. The other soloists were Mrs. Terrence Cox, Mrs. McCartin and Miss Etta King.

After the business meeting a campaign was started for the payment of the new and complete X-ray machine recently acquired by the hospital and operated by Dr. Joseph P. Mehan, which remarkable medical advance has been attained. This X-ray machine is one of the best known to science and a most valuable acquisition to the equipment of the hospital.

The ladies of charity have elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Miss Rose Dowd; vice-presidents, Mrs. John J. Hogan and Mrs. William P. Lawler; recording secretary, Miss M. Alice Cox; treasurer, Sister M. Clare, superlapse, corresponding secretary, Sister Celina. A board of directors will be appointed later.

GO BACK TO COLLEGE

CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS ENDED YESTERDAY—MANY LOWELL BOYS SPENT VACATION HERE

Many Lowell boys who spent the Christmas holidays at the homes of their parents left yesterday to resume their studies in the various preparatory schools or colleges throughout the New England states. In most cases the vacation lasted ten days or two weeks and all of the pupils had a good opportunity to recuperate from the strain of about three months' study.

It was necessary for the students to leave here yesterday in order to register at the schools early this morning as is required in the majority of institutions. Probably Holy Cross college was the most largely represented of any school, although many boys left for colleges throughout the states of Maine and New Hampshire.

LAMP SETS HOUSE AFIRE

WOMAN DROPPED LIGHTED LAMP WHILE BENDING OVER CRIB OF SICK BABY—BUILDING BURNED

WARWICK, R. I., Jan. 5.—A lighted lamp which Mrs. Bert McLeod was holding while bending over the crib of her sick baby at Oakland Beach yesterday, slipped out of her hand and set the house on fire. Mrs. McLeod snatched up the infant and fled screaming through the house to arouse the six other members of the family, who were asleep.

All escaped in their night clothes just as the flames, fanned by a high gale, cut off the hallway. The house was burned to the ground, together with an unoccupied dwelling adjoining it. Other houses caught fire, but the volunteer fire department, aided by a heavy rain, prevented further spread of the flames.

INVESTIGATION DEMANDED

Charged That Supt. Ratliffe Led Mob That Took Strikers From Jail and Deported Them

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Immediate investigation of the charge that Harry Ratliffe, superintendent of federal forest reserves at Steamboat Springs, led a mob that took strikers out of jail and deported them, was demanded today by Rep. Keating of Colorado.

Immediately upon receipt of a telegram charging that Ratliffe led the crowd, Mr. Keating arranged for a conference with Chief Forester Graves and got in communication with Acting Secretary Galloway of the department of agriculture. Keating demanded that if the charges be sustained Ratliffe be removed. Telegrams received by Rep. Keating and other members of the Colorado delegation regarding the deportation of "Mother" Jones and others active in the coal strike will be submitted to congress in support of the plea for a thorough congressional investigation into all phases of the strike.

COUNTERFEITERS HELD

Trio Rounded up by Chief Flynn of Secret Service Division—All Are Old Offenders

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The big part that a receipt for a registered letter played in the breaking up of a band of counterfeiters which operated over a large section of the country came to light today at the treasury department when Chief Flynn of the secret service division gathered up the loose ends of the story. In consequence of the finding the receipt in the possession of one of them three men are under arrest. They arrived to be old offenders and have long prison terms in prospect.

Several weeks ago Chief Flynn received word of the appearance of a new counterfeit $10 gold certificate in Buffalo. A few days later, the same sort of a certificate made its appearance in New York and then in rapid succession in St. Louis and Cincinnati. The New York office of the secret service arrested a boy who had been in his possession and who said they were given him to pass. The boy's description of the giver led to John Farnham, alias Frank Lascero, alias Dominico O. Grecco. In searching Farnham's rooms the officials found a receipt for a registered package addressed to the daughter of Ed. Westcott of Chicago, who had served part of a ten years' sentence for counterfeiting. While the New York officers of the service awaited and finally arrested Farnham, Flynn sent a telegram to Chicago to look up Westcott. Confronted by agents, Westcott confessed, said he had made four hundred of the bills and that he had given half of them to Farnham, 100 to a man named Merrill and kept about 100 himself. Merrill was walked into the trap set for him a short time later and proved to be an old acquaintance of the service known before as Otto Allen of Peoria.

Merrill had been out on the road' disposing of the bills and brought back with him only 47. When Farnham was arrested, he had 156 bills.

If he had not been registered package to Chicago, Chief Flynn might yet be looking for others in the gang.

COL. CARMICHAEL WILL PUT SALARIES BACK

After the municipal council for 1914 had adjourned to tomorrow at 11 o'clock there was more visiting and handshaking and the men elected to the different departments were handed the keys to their respective departments.

Colonel Carmichael said he had decided to revoke the action of his predecessor in the raising of salaries in the water department. To Supt. Thomas he said: "I will not take the matter up today, but I feel it my duty to put the salaries back where they were. If my predecessor had made the increases several months ago I might think differently about it."

Department Turned Over
Colonel Carmichael visited the headquarters of the department to which he was qualified earlier in the day and found Mr. Barrett, his predecessor, waiting for him. Mr. Barrett turned over the keys, etc., and told Mr. Carmichael that if anything came up in which his advice would be of any service, he would be glad to offer it. "I have no hard feelings in leaving this office," he said, "but I will be glad to see you succeed and I wish you the best of luck. There is just one thing I would venture to advise, and that is that you spend three

NEW CITY GOVERNMENT HOLDS FIRST MEETING

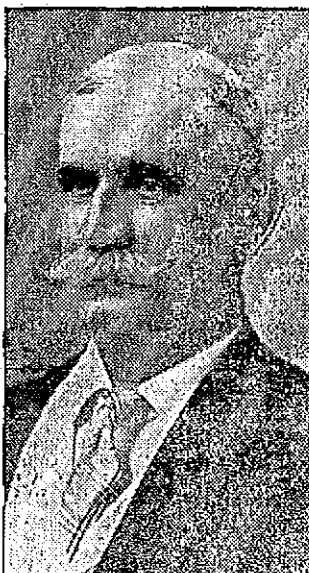

Mayor Murphy Delivered Inaugural Address—Is Opposed to Further Increase of Salaries—Advocates Increase in $12 Tax Limit—Ald. Brown's Inaugural

ALDERMAN JAMES H. CARMICHAEL

MAYOR DENNIS J. MURPHY

ALDERMAN CHARLES J. MORSE

ALDERMAN JAMES E. DONNELLY

ALDERMAN GEORGE H. BROWN

The municipal council for 1914 was duly installed this morning at city hall, the inaugural exercises consisting of the usual formalities, after which Mayor Murphy delivered a brief inaugural address which follows. Alderman Brown also delivered an address and made recommendations which are published herewith.

After Alderman Brown had finished reading his inaugural address, the meeting adjourned till 11:45, when the assignment of departments and other business was dealt with.

Inaugural Exercises
It was but a little after 10 o'clock when City Messenger Monahan announced the arrival of the "government" for 1914. The procession from the mayor's office to the council chamber was led by Edmund Welch, superintendent of police and the city messenger. Then came Mayor James E. O'Donnell and Dennis J. Murphy, mayor-elect. Rev. Lawrence J. Tighe, O. M. I., of the Immaculate Conception church, Judge Thomas J. Enright, then came the commissioners and then the ex-mayors.

Mayor O'Donnell called to order. Prayer was offered by Rev. Lawrence J. Tighe, O. M. I., of the Immaculate Conception church. Judge Thomas J. Enright administered the oath of office to the mayor-elect and the man who was mayor up to that minute, James E.

O'Donnell, turned the meeting over to his successor. The exercises were simple but impressive.

The Ushers
The following commissioned officers of the high school regiment served as ushers: Col. Donald Partillo, Lieut. Col. Francis Duffy, Major Geo. Thomas, Adjt. Douglas Buchanan, Q. M. Gleason, McCullough, Capt. Co. A Ray Bartlett.

The following police officers were detailed for the exercises: Lieut. Connors, Sergt. Duncan, Sergt. Maguire and Patrolman Falge, the peace custodian at city hall; P. Clark, Thomas Hession, Horace Clements and Will Braught. The officers were in dress uniform and wore white gloves.

In the old days, when the old city government with its double board held sway, the aldermanic and councilmanic chambers were loaded with flowers, but there were very few flowers in the aldermanic chamber today and from out of the old common council chamber came "nary" a sound.

After the mayor-elect had taken the oath of office, City Clerk Stephen Flynn called the roll and members of the municipal council answered as their names were called and the new members took the oath of office. Mayor Murphy's inaugural was "more of a statement than an address" and Commissioner Brown, too, read a paper.

Alderman Brown Interrupts
Commissioner Brown interrupted Mayor Murphy, when the latter was reading his address, to explain relative to the $100,000 loan voted by the 1913 government. Mayor Murphy had stated that the city's note for $100,000 to be paid on the temporary loan was in default and Mr. Brown stated there must be some misunderstanding as the government for 1913 had voted to pay the $100,000 on a two months' note. "I will make that plain to you later," said Mr. Brown and the mayor proceeded with his inaugural.

The municipal council chamber was filled to overflowing long before the hour set for the inaugural exercises, and standing room in the gallery was at a premium. There was great applause when Mayor O'Donnell announced that Judge Enright was about

The freight train was operating on a track that city officials several days ago ordered removed. The railroad authorities had made no move to comply with the order and the mayor's action resulted.

According to witnesses there were no lights on the rear of the freight train and no switchman was at the crossing.

YOUNG AVIATOR MISSING

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—The passing of Albert J. Jewell, the young aviator who launched his aeroplane from Henstead Plains, L. I., three months ago and vanished remained still a mystery today after his wife had viewed the torso cast on the beach at Edgewater, L. I., and found yesterday. The body was headless, armless and legless, but Mrs. Jewell said the clothing made her certain that it was not her husband's. A sixty-mile wind was blowing when Jewell started from Henstead Plains for Staten Island and aviators believed he was swept out to sea.

STRASSBERG, Germany, Jan. 5.—Zabern, the little garrison town of Alsace, narrowly escaped widespread carnage on Nov. 28, according to the testimony of Col. Von Rueter, commander of the 95th German infantry, when he was brought before a court martial here today.

The colonel was charged together with Lieut. Schad of the same regiment with various offenses against the law. On the witness stand the colonel swore he had fully made up his mind to order the troops to open fire if necessary to restore order and he accompanied Lieut. Schad when the troops were clearing a square in order to permit the troops to give the command to fire if necessary, as he did not wish to leave the responsibility to so young an officer.

The colonel said on that date he had replied to an official who had asked whether he (Von Rueter) would allow it to come to bloodshed as follows: "Certainly. Blood may flow and under certain conditions the story will be a good one if it happens, for we are protecting the prestige and the honor of the whole army and the greatly shaken authority of the government."

Addressing the court, the witness added: "I was convinced that our government was allowing its reins to drag on the earth."

Col. Von Rueter informed the civil authorities of his intention to proclaim martial law, although this was the emperor's prerogative. He maintained on the stand he was entitled whether or when to assume charge of the situation and to supersede entirely the civil authority.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE

Two women and a little girl escaped serious injury and perhaps death by a single stride this afternoon when a large quantity of snow and ice slid off the roof of the Bon Marche building on the Kirk street side. The two women were just turning the corner of Merrimack street into Kirk and a little girl, who gave her name as Margaret Callahan, was on the curbing with a boxful of coal when two or three men who were passing yelled for them to jump. The child scrambled and both women leaped just as the avalanche of snow and ice came hurtling through the air to the sidewalk beneath. The girl's tongue and coat were covered with fine snow and one of the smaller pieces of ice struck her on the shoulder but beyond crying over the bruise for a few minutes she seemed to be unharmed. One of the women was overcome by the narrow escape of herself and companion that she had to be taken to her home.

MATRIMONIAL

A very pretty ceremony took place this morning, when Mr. Melville Leslie, son of the well known piano dealer, was united in marriage to Miss Marie Anne Exilda Pineault. The ceremony was performed at a nuptial mass at 7 o'clock at St. Joseph's rectory by the Rev. Armand Baron, O. M. I. The bride was attended by Mr. Germain Pineault, and the best man was Mr. Elie Delisle. After the ceremony breakfast was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Germain Pineault, 303 Aiken street. The young couple took an early train for Boston where they will be the guests of relatives and friends. Upon their return to Lowell they will make their home at 303 Aiken street.

CAPTAIN AND CREW SAVED

Power Boat Tossed on Mountainous Seas and Was Knocked About by 70 Mile Gale

BOSTON, Jan. 5.—(Special.)—A power boat, the Star, owned by a company having a plant at Spectacle Island and the men were employees on the island. The Star, a 45-foot cabin motor boat, was at anchor off the point and west of Spectacle Island, being tossed on mountainous seas and knocked about by a 70-mile gale, with high the worst combination of the elements ever witnessed in Boston harbor. Capt. Joseph Haskins and nine men were rescued and brought to Constitution wharf at 6 a. m. yesterday by Capt. Francis J. Illid and the crew of the police boat Guardian.

The rescued were Capt. Haskins, who lives at 130 Marion street, East Boston; Oscar Peterson, of 68 Clarendon street; Major Bruxton, of 7 Melrose street; Michael Johnson, of 23 Dorchester street; John Hilliard, of 40 Windsor street; Cambridge; Carl L. Bohan, of 17 Adams street; Joseph Walsh, of 300 Beach street; Charlestown; Frank Devitt, of 23 Foster street; and Maxim M.

Don't Trust Calomel

Thousands Experience Bad After Effects From This Dangerous Drug

A Safe Vegetable Substitute Is Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets for the Liver

Dr. F. M. Edwards, a prominent physician of Ohio, has discovered a laxative and liver purifier in a combination of vegetable materials mixed with olive oil, which is in effect almost exactly like calomel, except that there are none of the bad after effects.

Dr. Edwards has long been a foe of calomel, though he recognized its value as a laxative.

His distrust of the uncertain drug eventually started him, years ago, towards experiments with the view of discovering a substitute, and he has been for several years in possession of the long-sought-for combination, which is in the shape of a little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablet.

The results of 17 years' experience and practice are embodied in these marvelous little tablets.

There are called Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. And their effect on the liver has been the means of relief to many of Dr. Edwards' regular patients, as well as to thousands of others who have suffered and were afraid of calomel.

There is no necessity when you take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, by following them up with nasty, sickening, griping salts, or castor oil, as you do after taking calomel. Try them, and you will be satisfied.

The Olive Tablets Company, Columbus, O. All druggists.

every lady attending the performance will be given a set of these popular silk photographs, this time bearing the likeness of Nathalie Rouss. Seats for all performances now on sale. Box office opens from 10 a. m. Subscription list repeated.

B. F. KETH'S THEATRE

Fifty blackface performers will appear at the B. F. Keith theatre, this week, in Russell's minstrel show, and ought to provide as classy fare as we have known for a long time. Yes, there are 50 of them, although 45 of the 50 are painted on the big back drop. They are there just to suggest a mammoth company. Five of the 50 are human beings who have traveled far and near and have always been in the audiences with their splendid singing and their rather pointed jesting. Fred P. Russell heads this collection and ought to mean a whole lot to those who are conversant with minstrel shows in the past 20 years. Mr. Russell is known as the speediest parodist who ever stood on the boards. He can add just timely words to the rhythm of any popular song and put the whole over the footlights in a manner quite inimitable. He doesn't claim to be a poet, only a rhymester who tickles one's funny-bone with his comicallies. In the company are four splendid singers who will warble to their hearts' content, sentimental and comic songs. The scenic effects are first class in every particular and the act possesses that polish which proclaims it as something out of the ordinary. The minstrel first part will open with the medley overture of popular songs, by the entire company. Norman Stanley will then sing "Good Bye, My Love, Good Bye" after which Ed. Lucy, an excellent tenor, will give that old favorite, "When You and I Were Young, Maggie," and the scarcely less known number, "As Long as the Shamrock Grows Green." Two comedy songs to be given are "You've Got to Hug It" and "Down in Chattanooga," with Jack Kennedy using his splendid baritone in the numbers. Jack Kearns will then sing "To Have, to Hold, to Love" and "Across the Great Divide." Mr. Russell will appear in his original songs and parodies, and the show will close with the singing by the entire company of "Good Bye, Sal."

Mishoney and Tremont, a man and a woman, have been specially engaged and will add materially to the strength of the bill. The train have a skit which was written for them by a western newspaper man of much reputation. It is declared to be as perfect a comedy, with serious sidelights, as has been placed on the vaudeville stage in a long time. Mishoney was for a number of years a member of the Frohman forces and Miss Tremont was known as a singer with several of Mori Singer's companies. The act will bear watching as it is declared to be the best of its kind seen in the east in many months.

"Prune Centre" is the title of the droll little comedy to be played by Ronch and McCurdy. The men are real funmakers, and in this play which was concocted by them they portray a pair of real backwoods characters. They have taken their conceptions from first hand observations.

Tom Smith and Harry Madison will also prove laugh-convulsers of the first water. They are newcomers to the local stage, and will bring with them a freshness which will make them instant favorites. The Alpine troupe of wire walkers, five in number, have been with Ringling Brothers' circus for a number of seasons, and may be depended upon to cause plenty of thrills. Hilda and Elmer, the dancing couple from the Argentine Republic, will give the dances which have of recent months electrified European and American audiences, and Bob Hardie, an instrumentalist of worth. The Faith Weekly pictures will conclude the show. Good seats may be secured at the box office in advance. Phone 28.

OPERA HOUSE

"BOUGHT AND PAID FOR"

A distinguished critic has written of "Bought and Paid For," which is to be presented at the Opera House, Wednesday evening, Jan. 14, that it "interests all who are married and all who intend to get married," which is a way of saying it interests everybody. The recipe is simple, the plays tell a story we see in life almost daily. Part is unfolded by characters we have met and talked with hundreds of times.

A film in five masterful parts, which has been heralded as the world's greatest spectacular war drama, "Victory," is the feature offering at the Opera House today. This sensational photo-play was staged with American warships and was equipped, and includes in its cast Secretary Daniels, Admiral Rodgers, Commander Benson, Commander Russell, Lieutenant Commander Butler, Flag Lieutenant McCandless, Capt. Bryant, Commander Doyle and Lieut. John H. Towers, the naval aviator who was killed in an accident recently. Part of this five-reel thriller is a blood-curdling plot to blow up the American fleet in a Cuban harbor. Then there is the woman in the case who defects the plot and kills it, the naval aviator, who with true patriotic spirit, does a hundred mile flight, reaching the fleet just in time to save it from the terrific mine explosion. Lieut. Towers is shown as the hero of the aerial flight, and among the warships seen are the Prairie, Castine, Albatross, New York, Yankton and Tonahaw. The scene of most of the picture is at Guantanamo, the Cuban station of the Atlantic fleet. In addition to the above war drama, will be seen "A Wolf in the Plains" from the house of Warner, depicting life in the far west during the pioneer days, making the biggest and best picture show that was ever offered in this city for any price.

THEATRE VOYONS

One of the prettiest scenes ever acted for a motion picture is seen in the picture entitled "When a Woman Wills," now being shown at the Voyons. This scene is taken at the great dress ball that is an annual event in Rome, Italy. Another scene that will attract more than ordinary attention is the great gambling scene, showing the big faro tables and the society people of the city enjoying themselves. This story is about a man, a girl, an adventurer and his pal, and the great Italian lottery and the photography and stage settings are magnificent.

STEAMER SINKS

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—A wireless message, received here last night by the agents of the Campana Transatlantica, said that the steamer Manuel Calvo of that line was on her way into port, towing a disabled tank steamer, when at a point 15 miles east of Sandy Hook the tank steamer sank. The Manuel Calvo lost one lifeboat, the dispatch said. There was no mention of any loss of life, nor was the name of the tank steamer given.

ANNUAL MEETING

The Rifle association held their annual meeting yesterday afternoon at the Westford street armory for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year. Practically the only change made in this year's list of officers from those of last year was the election of Capt. Greig of Company K, Co. C, of the Rifle Assn. The officers who will serve for the coming year are as follows:

Can't Afford It?

Let's figure it out and see

How much would you charge to go to the grocer's or the provision dealer's?

How much would you give, on a visit, to visit a distant friend?

How much would it be worth, in case your child were taken suddenly ill at night, to be able to summon the doctor at once, and, perhaps, by special instructions from him by wire, to be able to give temporary relief pending his arrival or even to save its life?

The expense of a telephone is not figured by what it costs for a whole year, but by how much it saves each time it is used. Therefore, with all these things in mind, ask yourself

Can I Afford to Be Without a Telephone?

If you need further details as to cost, ask the Manager.

FIRE AUTO STRUCK POLE

Dist. Chief Crowley Had Narrow Escape on Going to Fire—Several Other Alarms

While responding to box 27 yesterday forenoon, District Chief Daniel Crowley barely escaped serious injury when his machine, brought up hard against a trolley pole at the corner of Central and Merrimack streets. His quick action with the emergency brake served to slow up the car considerably before the collision occurred, but even at that Mr. Crowley was severely shaken up by the crash of the machine against the pole.

The district chief was attempting to round the corner of Central street from Merrimack at a high rate of speed but an electric car interfered with his maneuvers. His car first struck the fence of the electric car as he rounded the blind corner at the junction of Central and Merrimack and then headed directly for the trolley pole located at this spot. Chief Crowley threw on his emergency brakes but his car was under such headway that it could not be checked before it struck the pole. The machine had its mud guards bent, but beyond that was not injured.

The fire to which the district chief was hastening was in the Appleton bank. It was a small blaze in a waste basket and no damage was done before it was extinguished.

Box 8 called the department out to a barber shop in East Merrimack street where a brick blaze kept the firemen busy for some time. The fire had gotten into the partition and for this reason proved very stubborn. The first alarm rang in at 3 o'clock and another one at 5 o'clock called out the department again. This time the roof was afire, caused by the dropping of sparks from a nearby chimney. Little damage was done by the second blaze.

A small blaze on Front street caused box 82 to ring yesterday afternoon, but little harm was done by the flames. A telephone alarm at 5 o'clock yesterday morning was occasioned by a small fire in Lincoln hall on Gorham street. There was but slight damage done to the building.

On account of the increasing demand for an early edition of The Sun, a noon edition is now issued daily. It is a sale by newsboys and at all news stands.

Here's to You and Me and POSTUM

—the pure food-drink that meets the desire of young and old for a palatable table beverage which is wholesome and satisfying.

Postum is made only of clean, hard wheat and a small per cent. of New Orleans molasses. It tastes much like the higher grades of Java, but is absolutely free from caffeine, the drug in coffee, which causes so much headache, sleeplessness, indigestion, nervousness and heart trouble.

Coffee drinkers can learn something of value by a 10 days' change to Postum.

Then, as the coffee poison is eliminated from the system, the brain works clear, nerves become steady, and the gradual return of peace and comfort will show plainly

"There's a Reason" for POSTUM

Postum now comes in two forms:

Regular Postum—must be boiled 15 to 20 minutes.

Instant Postum—is a soluble powder. A scant teaspoonful stirred in a cup of hot water dissolves instantly.

The convenience of Instant Postum is apparent. But, when prepared according to directions, both kinds are exactly the same. The cost per cup is about equal.

Grocers everywhere sell both kinds.

MANSLAUGHTER CHARGED

Case of Geo. L. Erb Continued— Trio Arrested in Billerica Were Charged With Entering Camp

The case of George L. Erb, charged with manslaughter, was continued for four weeks. Erb is charged with causing the death of Merrill Woodward who died from injuries received when the defendant's automobile struck him. The case was continued pending the finding on the inquest.

Officers Conway and Livingston of Billerica had three defendants in court this morning. John M. Young, Robert Hudson and William Hudson were all charged with breaking and entering a camp on the Concord river. It is claimed by the state that the three defendants stole a kit of carpenter's tools from the camp. Their case was continued until Wednesday.

Edmund Flynn was charged with non-support of his child and drunkenness.

His sister told the court that she has been supporting the child and that her brother does not take any interest in his offspring. Flynn, she said, cared more for his liquor than he did for the child and she thought that the court ought to take some action in the matter.

The defendant was brought out of the cage and given a severe lecture by Judge Enright. The court first sentenced him to serve four months in the house of correction but later suspended the sentence upon Flynn's promise to pay three dollars every week toward his child's support.

The case of Benjamin Snyder, charged with assault and battery upon his wife, was continued until a week from today. This case promises some unusual developments when it comes up for trial.

Officer John H. Clark picked up Rose Provencher on Middlesex street Saturday night in a drunken condition. The officer told Judge Enright that the defendant was doing her best to flirt with the men whom she met on the street. Rose will spend the next three months in a large stone building on Thorndike street.

John McAuley made his fourth appearance for drunkenness within the year and was greeted with a four months' jail sentence. Elizabeth Clark received a fine of $5 for drunkenness. Probation Officer Slattery released eight first offenders.

WILL NOT FLEE TO U. S.

and escort from Chihuahua City citizens who feared they would be murdered by Villa. We selected Ojinaga because it is one of the best natural fortifications in the world. It also offered a source of communication with Mexico City, as well as a port through which we might import provisions. Our position here is impregnable. We have ample stores of ammunition and more than fifty field pieces. Our losses have been greatly under those of the rebels.

Will Not Cross Border

"Ortega, who came to attack us on orders from Villa, thought his presence would cause us to flee to the United States. He was surprised when we resisted him. Our four thousand loyal soldiers, because of our superior equipment, are able to resist 10,000 rebels, and there are not that many rebels in the north. Each of us is ready to die should that be necessary and if we evacuate this place it will not be to a foreign country."

General Castro's interview was given in a quiet plaster house on the Plaza which has been under almost continuous firing for a week. As he talked the commanding and rattle of infantry of General Ortega's rebel army to the west of the village was audible.

For a short time bursting shrapnel was scattering a shower of bullets about the village. Dead soldiers lying unburied in the outer trenches and hundreds of living soldiers on duty for a week without sleep were some of the scenes witnessed today in an inspection of this frontier village, 67 miles from a railroad which has become the battle ground of a possible final conflict for the possession of the north. So far neither side has made material headway except in the drain on the federal ammunition by the rebels. A few of the adobe houses used as federal forts have been demolished but the damage to fortifications made of dirt has been casual.

Patrol Takes Precautions

Despite assurances of Generals Castro and Salazar that the federal had no desire to flee to the United States in case of utter defeat, the United States patrol did not slacken its precautions taken with a view to that emergency. Already about 500 federal deserters have crossed and either have been disarmed and sent back or have escaped into Texas. Because of the tendency of both the contending armies across the river from Presidio to send their wounded to the American side to be cared for, the Red Cross today wired Ernest P. Bicknell, the national director to provide more hospital supplies. The message said hundreds of wounded might have to be cared for ultimately.

REBELS FRUSTRATE ATTEMPT OF

FEDERALS TO MARCH ON DURANGO

JUAREZ, Mexico, Jan. 5.—Another attempt of federal under General

Ricardo Pena at Torreon to march on the city of Durango, which is held by the rebels, was frustrated by rebel troops under Calixto Contreras and Jose Arriola, who attacked and defeated them last Friday in a battle near San Carlos, Durango, eight miles from Torreon, according to an official message received last night by General Contreras, commander at Juarez. The message, which was telegraphed to Juarez via the city of Durango, said the federal losses amounted to 31 killed and 35 prisoners. Pena's forces retreated to Torreon.

VESSELS IN DISTRESS

MANY FIGHTING STORMY SEAS TO

SAVE BOATS AND CREWS, REPORT WIRELESS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Wireless reports from points between Cape Hatteras and Baltimore, received at revenue cutter headquarters today, tell of vessels in distress and of fights in stormy seas to save them and their crews. The cutter Seminole on her way from Norfolk to Wilmington, N. C., found the schooner Thomas Winsor in distress near Lookout Light, below Cape Hatteras and is standing by. An attempt was made today to reach the cutter Oconauga by wireless so that she might stop long enough on her way from Norfolk to Cape May to help the barge John B. Sage, reported adrift near Cobbs Island in the vicinity of Cape Charles. Information here is to the effect that the two men who made up the crew of the Sage have been saved but the service desires to get the barge out of the way of traffic.

The revenue cutter Androscoogin went aground off Cove Point in the Chesapeake bay, about 75 miles from Baltimore, early today while running in thick weather. Captain Hall made no report of the condition of his ship in respect to revenue cutter headquarters. Captain Ueberth ordered the cutter Apache to the Androscoogin's assistance.

the board to service in the absence of the mayor, and Col. Carmichael was elected. Mr. Carmichael voted for Mr. Brown.

Coun. Carmichael thanked the members for the honor bestowed upon him and hoped, he said, that he would be able to serve faithfully and efficiently.

Assignment of Departments

The board then proceeded to the assignment of departments. The first department taken up was finance, and George H. Brown was the unanimous choice.

The next up was the department of streets and highways, and Charles J. Morse was unanimously elected. The next department to be supplied with a governing head was water and fire departments, and Col. James H. Carmichael was elected unanimously.

The department of public property and licenses was the next, and James B. Donnelly was the unanimous choice. He will succeed Mr. Cummings, and Mr. Carmichael will succeed Mr. Barrett.

Appointments Are Postponed

William J. Cormier was named for constable.

Col. Carmichael said: "We ought to be a little careful about appointing constables, so that they would not interfere with lawyers. I would rather have them all go over for a day and let the matter of the selections rest with the mayor."

"I do not wish to oppose applicants but to support principles. I don't believe men should be oppressed by constables and their money held up when satisfactory adjustment could be made without such interference."

All applications as appointments for constable went over until tomorrow.

Surveyors Appointed

The mayor said there were the names of a number of applicants before him for surveyors, measures of wood, etc. All of them were confirmed.

The petition of Joseph Welch and others, opposed to the watering of Chelmsford street was referred to the commissioners of streets and highways. Other minor petitions were properly referred.

John F. Donnelly is candidate for registrar of voters and he had a consultation in concerning it. The matter was placed on file.

Various petitions having to do with pole locations and wire attachments were referred.

At 12:35 the council adjourned to meet tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock.

Mayor Murphy's Address

Mayor Murphy's inaugural included a financial statement of the city on Jan. 1, 1914. The inaugural:

We meet here this morning to institute a new administration of affairs for the city of Lowell and to take up the burdens of official responsibility which we voluntarily assume in response to the demands of a constituency that has honored us with an expression of their confidence and trust.

We meet here upon a common ground, with equal opportunities, and responsibilities. Our objects should be one and the same, that of the highest good of the city and the welfare of all the people.

We should administer the laws of our city fairly and impartially, with equal rights to all and special privileges to none.

The true aim of our government should be the happiness and welfare of all the people.

Let us strive for an honest and successful administration of the internal affairs of the city; for we are all directors for the time being of this great municipal corporation, and we should apply ourselves to the great task before us.

I am mindful of the duties which my oath of office imposes and I am also aware that without your council and support I will be able to accomplish little, so that in your hands, as well as in mine, rests the responsibility of a good and successful government for the coming year.

The highest standards with respect to public service should always be our aim. Therefore, let us try honestly to treat all matters with that fairness and broadness of mind that we would apply in deciding matters of great importance connected with our own affairs or our own business, so that the duties entrusted to our care by the citizens of our city shall be ably and wisely performed for the good and benefit of all, and for the credit of Lowell.

In appropriating money for the various departments and for the public work of the city we should always bear in mind that we are spending other people's money as well as a small portion of our own; that the distribution of the city's money should be fair and equitable, neither lavish on the one hand nor stinting on the other.

The determining factor should always be that true economy is for the general good of all the people, not only for today but for next year, and the years that are to follow.

Many improvements and changes may be desired and urged for our favorable consideration, but we should never forget that what people desire and what is expedient are two different propositions, and we should be guided by expediency. We should have that which we need and can afford, but we must do without that which we may desire but cannot afford.

Every government has had the financial problem to take up. Municipal government has been the most frequent and most vexatious problem to be taken up by incoming administrations. I feel that I indulge in no exaggeration and labor under no misconception, when I declare that nothing of a financial nature ever confronted a municipal council of the city of Lowell with greater weight or more pressing force than the problem of making both ends meet in receipts and expenditures.

Lowell, in common with other cities and towns, must change its financial system if laws passed by the general court are to be lived up to.

Many years ago, before the passage of existing laws and the passage of amendments to existing laws, the general court fixed the arbitrary rate of $12.00 per thousand, which may be raised for current expenses in this city by a tax levy.

These changed conditions must be met. Legislative enactments and local demands have steadily and permanently increased the fixed charges. In the meantime, the principal source of revenue has remained the tax levy fixed by the general court at $12 per thousand.

Improvements have and must be made in a growing city, and these improvements and additions to the plant have to be paid for as much as the current expenses.

The increase in the mandatory expenses and fixed charges have exhausted the amount raised by the $12 tax, and practically all additions to our city are now being paid for by the proceeds of loans, which have become an annual increasing mortgage on the municipality.

While it is true that the tax rate of the city may be raised somewhat if we change this $12 rate on the thousand, nevertheless, the final result will mean the inauguration of a pay-as-you-go policy, and I believe the honest fair-minded tax payer would rather pay a slight increase in his tax rate than have the municipal council borrow thousands of dollars in loans, upon which a large amount of interest must be paid. The amount of interest which has become a fixed charge upon the city of Lowell would be almost enough to run our buildings and charities department.

The total borrowing limit for the year 1914 will be $563,655.38.

The distance from the debt limit January 1, 1914, $238,881.58.

The limit of department appropriations for the year 1914 has increased $418,491.56 from the year 1912, while the fixed charges for the year 1914 has increased $53,974.50 since 1912.

In my opinion it will be necessary to change the rate of $12.00 on the thousand to at least $13 on the thousand and possibly more.

From the investigations made by me and from talks with Mr. Gettemy the city of Lowell should go to the legislature for permission to borrow three thousand dollars to care for the temporary loan of $600,000.00 now outstanding against the city, otherwise no relief from our financial tangle is in sight.

It was not my intention when I sat down to review the city's affairs to do aught but say a few words to my fellow commissioners, but I found that an examination of affairs demanded something more than a formal statement.

In view of the financial status of the city's affairs, I am opposed to any further increase of salaries. I am in favor of reducing all salaries raised since December 9th last, so far as the law will permit it.

Health Department

This department is under the control and supervision of the commissioner of public safety, and is subject to any work to statutory law and its business management merely is in our control.

The business management will in the immediate future occupy my attention with an end in view of bringing about consolidation of work which in the end will result in a saving to the city. The care of public health is a very important matter and it is our duty to see that the work is well and carefully done. With the burdens of this department being annually increased by legislation, an economic administration is especially desired.

Charity Department

This department, like the health department, is under the supervision of the commissioner of public safety. We are all deeply interested in the welfare of the poor, the sick and the aged, and the city's health, maintained at public expense, should be a place of peace and contentment to those less fortunate of our fellow citizens, and particular attention should be given to their peace and comfort. During the year 1913 the expense of this department was $54,385.02 for the hospital and $34,479.13 for out-door relief.

Since October, 1913, under chapter 753 of the acts of 1913 which took effect September last, there has been expended the sum of $1224 for the relief of dependent mothers. This amount must necessarily increase for the year 1914. It is but fair to state, however, that certain sums returned by states, cities and towns went into the general treasury fund, and therefore this appropriation does not get any credit for the money returned.

Police Department

It is my intention to permit the superintendent of police to run this department. I have confidence in his ability and integrity to so conduct his department that in the end it will reflect credit upon the city. Proper discipline at all times should be maintained. The officers and patrolmen of this department should never enter into politics. It should and must be run on the merit system and not on the political system.

NEWS FROM CITY HALL

LITTLE ARMY OF CANDIDATES WHO EXPECT PLACES—THE MAYOR'S FIRST OFFICIAL ACT

From the multiplicity of candidates for the different positions at city hall, one would infer that the purpose of the new city government was chiefly to reward political friends, even at the expense of faithful and competent officials. One of the objects of the commission form of government is to promote continuity in office and business methods to the exclusion of political. Is the city going to gain anything by throwing out a competent official like Michael J. Dawd, superintendent of charities, simply to punish him for being a friend of former Mayor O'Donnell, or to reward another man for being a hustler for the election of the present mayor? Is the city going to gain by removing a trustworthy Agent Foye because a certain business man who was an ardent supporter of the new mayor has a candidate who, perhaps would look with exclusive favor upon his particular line of business?

UNDOING WORK OF PREDECESSOR

Mayor Murphy's first official act was to undo the action of former Mayor James E. O'Donnell, in appointing an Inspector of plumbing and three women assistants at the Chelmsford street hospital.

APPOINTED NEW OFFICERS

From the civil service list Mayor O'Donnell, on Saturday, made the following appointments to the supernumerary force of the police department: Frechette, Anthony Clark and Samuel McElroy.

THE TRUSTS OBEY

One of the wonders of the modern world is the alacrity with which trusts and combinations in this country are following government suggestions without the necessity for interminable legal controversies in the federal courts. Indeed so unusual and unexpected is this state of things that some of the most ardent champions of rigorous anti-trust legislation are issuing warnings against a too ready confidence in the good faith of the trust magnates who are showing such subservience to the government and the forces of public opinion. President Wilson has made no secret of his satisfaction at the turn things are taking and he has attributed the action of the yielding combinations to the growth of a better spirit between the government and business. On the other hand the leaders of finance and industry are loud in praise of the anti-trust program of the administration which, though thorough, has nothing of the persistent persecution which followed some trusts in other administrations while a chosen few were left untroubled while enjoying what many thought an unlawful degree of government favor.

Whatever one may think of the motives behind the voluntary compliance of such men as President Vail of the telephone trust and J. P. Morgan, head of the great house of Morgan & Co. with the anti-trust laws, the fact remains that the terms of the law are being complied with without any danger to established business. There has been no indication that in other cases the magnates were compelled to take action by immediate government interference, nor can the possibility of government ownership or regulation of the properties of the companies involved be considered pressing enough to compel action. It is, therefore, not just that the statements of both Mr. Vail and Mr. Morgan be accepted as accurate when they attribute the unusual change to "the change in public sentiment."

Once again this demonstrates the force of American public opinion which is active in its power over national legislation. The open disregard of law which went on in the very face of the government has at last aroused a spirit that cannot be capricious or dictated by political expediency. Such a change is voted in politics at the polls of the "new freedom" but there are tangible evidences of a change in the attitude of the American masses and American business with regard to retrial laws. Under a great president who has been phenomenally successful in his application of a corrective legislative program, a greater spirit of idealism is creeping into the relations of politics and business and there is a growing feeling of the interdependence of industrial and political interests. One of the external manifestations of this is the recent retirement of J. P. Morgan and four of his partners from directorships in 27 corporations. His action will entail the abandonment of many financial agreements, the abolition of interlocking directorates, the disbanding of voting trusts and many other great financial reforms.

Besides the importance of this compliance with law in itself, the moral value of the example on the business of the country will be great. It will be seen that eventually evasion of the law or hostility to it is a losing game and that the greatest prosperity will come with compliance with its terms followed by governmental favor. The president and attorney-general have excellent reason to feel gratified at the unexpected turn of affairs.

ILLEGAL SIGNATURES

The illegal signature scandal connected with the mayoralty fight in Boston is, being exploited as a reflection on the direct primary system, and while it may be due to one of its weaknesses, it is rather an indication of an evil that would work out somehow under any system and that is revealed in all its repulsiveness by the direct primary system. Any system that reveals wrong and gives the public means for its redress is not to be condemned on this score. Rather should a system be condemned that would enable political trickery to hide under the guise of honesty.

There are some aspects of the Boston situation that are worth considering. One of the candidates for mayor was barred because he wanted eligibility of the 5000 signatures needed for his nomination, though he had more than enough of them were it not for a legal technicality which threw out all names signed with the initials instead of the full name. The two candidates remaining in the field stopped accusing each other of fake signatures when it was discovered that neither could afford to throw mud at the other on this score. The members of the ballot law commission have turned the matter over to the district attorney.

Even those who are most active in investigating the Boston signature scandal do not accuse the principals of complicity connected with it. The trouble seems to be that signatures are secured by supporters of the candidate without his being aware of the methods employed. He may in good faith deny that illegal signatures have graced his papers and afterwards find them included with the bona fide names. A few disclosures such as that in Boston ought to successfully offset this abuse.

Concerning the matter of signatures which though obtained honestly are barred through the technicality that demands a full name, the offense cannot be regarded as serious. It were well if managers of political campaigns could be accused of nothing more serious than carelessness such as this.

NEW CHARTER FOR CAMBRIDGE

The charter revision committee of Cambridge has recently submitted a new charter to Mayor Barry and he in turn has submitted it to the city council. Although the charter has been called more modern and expeditious than the present form of government in that it does not provide for the commission form which we have adopted and which has received almost universal approval in the most progressive cities of this country. From old time experience we can understand why the thinking people of Cambridge are seeking relief from political evils of unsatisfactory government. It is to be hoped that they will support a change in the municipal administration, whatever they may do in support of the new one. All of the blame for an unsatisfactory state of municipal government does not rest on city officials.

The Cambridge Standard outlines the city's need for better government as follows:

"One great trouble with the present system is that there is a lack of responsibility. Our citizens and councilmen spend much of their time referring matters to someone else. Order after order drifts aimlessly to some unpaid board or head of department, usually to return with some negligible recommendation or to disappear forever. We plainly need a charter that will definitely place the responsibility for doing definite things on definite officials. We believe that it is no exaggeration to say that our city fathers spend at least two-thirds of their time winding and unwinding red tape."

If the Standard hopes that a new charter will prevent city officials from "winding and unwinding red tape" it is doomed to disappointment, but under a charter such as ours there will not be so much to wind. What is needed there is a referendum of the people on the question of the present state of affairs preceded by an educational campaign such as that which ushered in the new charter here. Much as many of our people are disappointed by the working out of the new system, no one would wish to go back to the older discarded one.

FEDERAL RESERVE CITIES

Under the new currency law the federal reserve banks will be established in not less than eight and not more than twelve cities, and as is to be expected, there is great competition for the distinction. Yet the advantage to the cities chosen will be more sentimental than real, as these banks are not expected to do a general banking business. They are co-operative banks dealing with the members of the association which owns them and the location of them conveys little more than a nominal distinction. The cities which are making most noise in advancing their claims are doing so recognizing the value of advertising. It is significant that New York is showing no excitement over the matter though this may arise in part from the confidence that it will be the first city chosen. The cities most agitated are Cincinnati, Detroit and Kansas City.

In the selection of cities for the location of the federal reserve banks, financial importance will not be overlooked, but their geographical position will be a stronger consideration. These banks must be scattered round and the west and south have claims that will offset the claims of this section of the country. The bank clearings of Boston and Philadelphia, for instance, are about equal, but the closeness of Philadelphia to New York will prevent the location of one in the Quaker city. Then the fact that the currency bill was meant in great measure to facilitate the giving of rural credit will be a deciding factor in the location of the federal reserve banks. All of the cities that desire one cannot be satisfied, but in all probability when the organizing committee reports, the selection will be made more in accordance with the intent of the bill than the claims of rival communities.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

WINTER

Woonsocket Call: The winter greets us at every point, as it does always in January. Its poetry is in the air and on every morning. It is snowing, heavy frosts crack hard and der our heels. The wagons and trolleys are singing their song of frozen nature. Bleakness is everywhere, but the winter is only a word. It does not mean desolation. Nature is never desolate—who is simply forgetful and mysterious. Her frown is no less than her smile, and she does not cease to winter to be the artist. She is lovely in her most frigid moods.

IN NEW BEDFORD

New Bedford Times: The improved report of the cotton mills is further supported by the increased building in New Bedford. Real estate conditions are probably the surest guide as to the fact that more than $2,500,000, an increase of nearly half a million over 1912, has been invested in new building projects in the past year. It is significant that the business interests of the community consider the present mill depression only temporary in its nature.

RAILROAD VENTURES

Fall River Herald: The Massachusetts public service commission has refused permission to the Inter-State Street Railway company to build a trolley line to the summit of Greylock mountain, on the ground that such a venture would not pay the interest on the investment. If the commission's conclusion is sound, this is a real, worthwhile service in the interest of safe and sane railroad and the pocketbooks of stockholders.

GARDNER AND ANDREW

Boston Traveler: The Gardner-Andrew correspondence is growing more numerous. The professor must not think that political letters are written for his benefit alone. Although he has been director of the mint and assistant secretary of the treasury, he has yet to get mixed up in the hotly-burly of political life. Doubtless he will have acquired valuable experience before his campaign for congress is over. Besides, the voters are not likely to take a candidate as seriously as he sometimes thinks they do. It is to be hoped that the congressman will not feel it necessary to make further requests that he be allowed to come back and swim in the congressional puddle.

HONOR TO DRYCE

Newburyport Herald: Americans will join in congratulations to former Ambassador James Bryce on the honor bestowed upon him in the form of a medal. While we do not confer honors of this sort in this country, Americans will rejoice that the author of "The American Commonwealth" is given tangible proof of the esteem of his own government.

A STATE LOAN

Foster's Democrat: Governor-elect Walsh of Massachusetts has turned down a proposition made to him that the state make a loan to the Boston & Maine road. It is stated that such a suggestion was made to him by Chairman Elliott of the New Haven, and by President Morris McDonald of the Boston & Maine.

Consumption Takes 350 People Daily

In the United States and the deadly germs claim more victims in cities than in rural districts, due no doubt to the increased number of indoor workers in confining quarters and their lack of sunshine. Tubercular germs always attack when the system is weakened from colds or sickness, overwork, overstrain, confining duties or any drain which has reduced the resistive forces of the body. But nature always provides a corrector and the best physicians emphasize that during changing climate our blood should be kept rich and pure and active by taking Scott's Emulsion after meals, the cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion warms the body by enriching the blood—it feeds the strengthening forces of the body to avoid colds and prevent consumption.

If you work indoors, the easily, feel languid or nervous, Scott's Emulsion is the most strengthening food-medicine known; it builds energy and strength and is totally free from alcohol or any stupefying drug—every druggist has it.

BIG CHURCH ATTENDANCE

In Response to Appeal of Church Federation to Have Everybody Attend

There was a very general response yesterday to the campaign for "beginning the new year right." According to reports of ministers the Protestant churches accommodated fully more than 5000 people at the morning services and the increase in attendance varied from 20 to 100 per cent. The movement was confined to the Protestant churches and although "everybody" didn't go to church the ministers throughout the city were well pleased with the increase in their congregations and they sincerely hope that those who went to church yesterday, influenced and inspired by the slogan repeated in the streets, the homes and elsewhere, will continue the good work and go to church every Sunday. It gives one a good feeling to go to church and the only thing is to get the habit.

Had the weather been more propitious the congregations, no doubt, would have been considerably larger for one was taking just the least little bit of a chance to venture out yesterday. The sidewalks were very slippery and the sky looked as if a storm might break any moment. Taking everything into consideration the "everybody to church" slogan was a success. The attendance didn't keep up as well in the evening as in the morning because walking in the evening was decidedly dangerous and the storm that hovered about during the day was beginning to show its teeth.

Some ministers reported that people went to them and told them that they had enjoyed the services and intended to continue to go to church on Sunday and one man confessed that he had not been inside a church for fifteen years. One pastor produced a list of 112 names that were all new to him. He had never heard of them as being among his parishioners, he said. It was noted in several of the churches that the increase included a very heavy percentage of men, a fact of considerable importance to the pastors who have been reaching out to influence the men in particular.

Sermons of the day were pertinent to the occasion and those who listened to them heard some references to the go-to-church movement and arguments regarding the need for such regular attendance on divine services.

Rev. C. A. Lincoln, of Kirk Street Congregational church, said that the condition which calls for this unusual effort to secure church attendance is world wide and that the nations of Protestant Christendom are developing conditions which if not altered speedily, mean the destruction of the church. He believed, however, that the awakening was coming and that the conditions would be altered.

Rev. Dr. George W. King, at the St. Paul's M. E. church said: "People are like a clock; they need winding up. To go to church regularly is to get the mainspring of life adjusted for the trials, sorrows, temptations and duties of the week. You need relief from the grind of life, and the church needs you."

Rev. Allan Conant Ferrin, at High Street Congregational church put it this way: "He who ignores and neglects the claims of religion does so at the peril of his soul. The community which ignores and neglects religion does so at the peril of its moral health and highest efficiency. Not that the church going habit is religion. Religion is life. It is a certain attitude of mind and heart, a certain direction of the will, a certain energy of service."

Rev. M. W. Matthews at the Gorham Street Methodist church, pointed out that the church is the conservator of society and an institution, not only divine but also where man's greatest needs are supplied.

St. Anne's Church

The attendance at St. Anne's church, yesterday, was approximately 900 people, or a gain of 100 per cent. The auditorium was filled to overflowing at the morning service. Rev. Appleton Grams and the associate Rev. Rev. S. H. Jones were both present and took part in the conduct of the services. Mr. Grams preached from the text, "What Must I Do to Be Saved?" He spoke of the importance of placing emphasis upon the essential things. Instead of the externals, in our religious life.

IN CATHOLIC CHURCHES

Preparations Being Made for Holy Name Feast Day—News of the Parishes

With the beginning of the new year the various societies of the Catholic churches of the city are growing active and a great many special meetings and parish reunions are scheduled to take place in the near future. At practically all the masses yesterday special meetings of the Holy Name society were announced in the various parishes for the purpose of making plans for the monster union service which is to take place in St. Michael's on Jan. 15th. This service is the local celebration of the observance by His Eminence Cardinal O'Connell.

St. Patrick's
High mass at St. Patrick's church was celebrated yesterday by Rev. Joseph Curran and the sermon was preached by Rev. Timothy Callahan who took the story of the gospel of the day for his theme. He dwelt on the lessons of the visit of the Magi to the cave at Bethlehem and of the star that led them through lonely wastes and dangerous lands to the infant Jesus. He said, seek Christ, the Saviour and Redeemer, and with eyes lifted to heaven we follow the star of faith which will lead us to the glorified home where He waits to welcome us. The gifts brought by the three wise men are symbols of the virtues of the Christian heart which seeks Christ with the proper spirit.

It was announced that there will be a meeting of the ladies' aid society Tuesday evening for the purpose of discussing important business matters for the coming year.

Immaculate Conception
The high mass of the Immaculate Conception church was celebrated yesterday by Rev. John O'Brien, O. M. I. Rev. Dennis Sullivan, O. M. I., preached an eloquent sermon on the lessons of the feast of Epiphany. His theme was the long journey of the three kings which was filled with beautiful imagery and the culmination of their quest in the sight of a lowly babe in a manger was dwelt on with tenderness. Fr. Sullivan also took occasion to blend with his sermon some timely advice for the guidance of the parishioners for the coming year.

The most important announcement was that of a special meeting of the Holy Name society to be held Thursday evening for the purpose of perfecting plans for the monster union service to be held in St. Michael's church on Jan. 15th. The music at yesterday's service was unusually spirited.

St. Peter's
Rev. W. George Mullin celebrated high mass at St. Peter's church yesterday. Rev. Daniel J. Heffernan preached an eloquent and instructive sermon on the gospel of the day.

The observance of the feast of the Holy Name in this parish on Jan. 15th will be marked by the attendance of the members of the society at holy communion and the holding of a breakfast later in Lincoln hall. The occasion is expected to be a noteworthy one in the history of the society. The chaplain, Fr. Burns, expects every member to join in making the occasion a real manifestation of respect for the name of Jesus. In the evening in communion with the other Holy Name societies of the parish, the members will attend the union service at St. Michael's, and it is confidently expected by the clergy of St. Peter's that their parish will have the largest representation.

Rev. James F. Lynch, formerly attached to St. Margaret's church in the Highlands, will be the preacher at the Holy Name service in St. Mary's church, Ayer, on Sunday, Jan. 18, at 2:30 o'clock and in the evening will deliver the sermon at the services in St. Michael's.

St. Margaret's
The parish mass at St. Margaret's church was celebrated yesterday by the pastor, Rev. Callaghan, who took occasion to thank the people for their support of the church during the year and to outline plans for the future.

A meeting was called for this afternoon to make plans for the union services in St. Michael's in common with the other parishes.

The parish reunion, partaking of the nature of a lawn party, will take place at the Association hall on Jan. 14th. There will be two concert performances, one in the afternoon for the children and one in the evening for the older people of the parish. The plans for the affair are very elaborate and every detail has been attended to in advance.

St. Joseph's
The feast of the Epiphany, which comes tomorrow, was celebrated with appropriate ceremonies yesterday at St. Joseph's church. The beautiful singing which was rendered at Christmas was repeated and Turner's mass was once more given with the utmost precision. Mass was sung by Rev. Armand Baron, O. M. I., and Rev. Herve Racette, O. M. I., Ph. D., delivered an appropriate sermon for the occasion. He also took the occasion to thank the parishioners for their generous Christmas offerings, and spoke at length on the reconstruction of St. Jean Baptiste church.

At the offertory Miss C. Benoit sang the "Ave Maria," and at the close of the mass Mr. J. E. Nolet rendered appropriate hymns.

In the afternoon there was a largely attended meeting of the Notre Dame de Lourdes society at the same church, and the sermon was given by the chaplain, Rev. Armand Baron, O. M. I.

St. Michael's
At the high mass at St. Michael's church yesterday many important announcements were made of which the most notable had to do with arrangements for the monster union service to be held in this church on Jan. 15th by all the branches of the local Holy Name society. Arrangements are in charge of Rev. Fr. Mullin.

The preacher at the union service will be Rev. J. J. McCarthy of Dorchester, state chaplain of the Knights of Columbus, one of the most noted preachers in the archdiocese.

The members from the various parishes will march to the church, where besides the sermon there will be vespers and benediction. The vesper service will be sung wholly by the sanctuary choir and the church quartet will sing the benediction service. The meeting will be brought to a close by the congregational singing of Cardinal O'Connell's beautiful hymn, "The Holy Name." Rehearsals are being now held in the various parishes.

St. Columba's
After the sermon yesterday at the parish mass of St. Columba's preached by Rev. Fr. Egan, it was announced that there would be a consecration meeting for the new members of the Ladies' sodality last evening. On next Sunday there will be a like meeting for the new members of the Holy Name society.

On Wednesday evening there will be a meeting of the special committee in charge of the parish reunion to take place in Academic hall on Feb. 4th. The parish hall will be held in the parish hall next Thursday evening.

Sacred Heart Church
Rev. Dennis Finnegan, O. M. I., of the Ottawa university, occupied the pulpit at the Sacred Heart church yesterday and preached an eloquent sermon on the feast of the nativity. He took his text from the gospel of Christmas.

Fr. Finnegan spoke at the 9:30 and 11 o'clock masses and at both services the congregation was very large. The high mass was celebrated by Rev. James F. McDermott, O. M. I. Preceding the sermon a beautiful "Veni Creator" was rendered by John Devlin. Christmas carols and the responses of the mass were impressively given by the sanctuary choir.

The Holy Name society will receive communion in a body on Sunday, January 18.

PRESIDIO, Tex., Jan. 5.—General Pascual Orozco has depended chiefly on his artillery and cavalry in meeting the desperate rebel attacks on Ojinaga. He is chief in command of Huerta's troops and is hopeful of retaining control of the city.

JUAREZ, Mexico, Jan. 5.—General Villa's visit here from Chihuahua, it was learned, was to establish a bank for the handling of Constitutional money. Villa brought $100,000 worth of silver bullion, which he purposes to use in connection with the bank.

The bank is to be made the depository of the rebel government funds. The damage done to property in Chihuahua by Villa's men is said to reach into millions of pesos. Houses shattered by shells are seen on almost every street. The arrow in the illustration points to Orozco.

FOR BUSINESS FREEDOM ACCUSED AS SPY

Samuel Untermyer, Who Conducted Money Trust Investigation, Outlines Program

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—Samuel Untermyer, counsel for the Dujo congressional committee which investigated the so-called money trust, today outlined in a speech to the Illinois Manufacturers association what he termed necessary program to restore business freedom and confidence.

Leaders of big business must first purge their minds of prejudice and moral subordinate personal desire for gain to the public good, he declared.

Next in importance, he said, is that the laws under which business is conducted must be so plain that the businessman can tell instinctively what constitutes a violation.

Complete dissolution between the railroads and industrial corporations and laws requiring railroads to part with interests in properties whose products they are engaged in transporting also is a requirement, according to Mr. Untermyer.

A legislative body to study each situation and recommend to the court a comprehensive plan of disintegration is needed when the new laws are put into effect.

The human quality, which he classified as "stockholders' inertia" was the chief preventive of immediate reform, according to the speaker.

"It is one of the best known and safest factors in corporate management, and the one on which the banking interests can most safely rely. It survives dishonesty, mismanagement and every form of corporate abuse. It is insurable and indefinitely transferable, and all the other causes combined responsible for corporate distrust and the ills from which we are now suffering."

"Nothing is to be gained by reprisals in the way of criminal prosecutions for violations that were committed before the courts had construed the law as we now understand it and that have been remedied or definitely abandoned. There should be complete amnesty and a clear slate so far as concerns criminal prosecutions as to those of the past."

He criticized the Standard Oil as "farouche" and that of the Union and Southern Pacific as "not much of an improvement."

"The superstructure was changed," he said, "but the common foundation and the basis of control has been permitted to stand."

EXTORTION CHARGED
NORTHFIELD, Vt., Jan. 5.—Fred Carlos Slack, aged 51, an insurance broker, who was for many years engaged in the butcher business in this town, was arrested shortly before noon yesterday on a charge of attempted extortion. It is claimed that Slack sought to secure $200 from Frank Severance, aged 65, a wealthy property holder, through blackmail methods. The two men have known each other for many years and were on friendly terms. Slack is connected with a prominent family here and has always borne an excellent reputation in a business and social way.

LIMIT OF 15 INCHES FOR SLITS
MIDDLEBORO, Jan. 5.—Middleboro's chief of police, Harry W. Swift, is the first minion of the law to define strictly the difference between propriety and impropriety so far as slit skirts are concerned. A slit that travels perpendicularly and measures over 15 inches is just cause, Chief Swift believes, for the inhabitants of Middleboro to become truly concerned, and any feminine wearer must take a chance of being jailed into court on a charge of disturbing the peace if she essays to trend local highways with a slit skirt that exceeds the linear limit placed by him.

HARTZELL MAY BE MANAGER
NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Hoy Hartzell, the handy utility man of the New York Americans, is likely to go to the Denver Western league team as manager, according to reports in local baseball circles.

TANGO BARRED

Denounced by Clergy—men in Saint Mary's Church, Cambridge

BOSTON, Jan. 5.—The clergy of St. Mary's parish, Cambridge, at all the masses yesterday, denounced as immoral and unfit the "tango" and other so-called "animal dances" and notice was given that St. Mary's hall, in the Catholic Association building, would be closed to dancing parties unless positive assurances were given that the dances would be barred from the program.

St. Mary's hall is one of the largest in the city, and is frequently used for dances. Last Friday a dance of the civil service class of the association was held there. It is understood that there were a few who were called to account for questionable dancing and told to stop.

Following the news of the episode, the announcement from the altar yesterday created considerable interest. Rev. M. J. Doody, P. R., and his associates spoke of the widespread campaign against improper dances, referring to Cardinal Farley in New York and others who are in a crusade against the dances.

Parents were urged to show interest and instruct their children to help out by putting the ban on such dances in clubs and organizations to which they may belong.

Rev. Fr. Doody yesterday afternoon said: "We are trying to form a strong and healthy opinion among our parishioners against these dances. We want the fathers and mothers in St. Mary's parish to take a stand against them."

"Some months ago I spoke about the improper dances and the announcement made today is in keeping with my action. St. Mary's hall is used often for parties, and while there have been no flagrant cases of questionable dances there have been one or two occasions on which we felt that it would be well to have it understood that we would not countenance such actions."

"Our announcement is not intended to criticize any committees which have had dances in charge in the past. We simply, in view of the widespread movement against these dances, wish it understood that St. Mary's hall will not be allowed for any but proper dances, and we will decline to let the hall unless we have assurances to this effect."

Mayor Barry, who was present at one of the masses, said yesterday: "I am in thorough sympathy with the clergy. We need their cooperation and the cooperation of the people in stopping these questionable dances. We have appointed an inspector of dance halls, and I believe he has done good work in bringing about reforms and improvements."

"Young folks can as well dance proper dances as otherwise, and I hope that in Cambridge they will set a good example for other cities."

A few weeks ago Commissioner Cunningham promulgated regulations for dance halls, among which was a warning that improper dancing would not be tolerated and persons so indulging would be immediately ejected. Moonlight dances and shadow lighting effects have been barred, pass-out checks forbidden and minors under 17, unless accompanied by parents or guardians, prevented from attending. An officer is detailed to all dances.

DRIVE OUT LABOR LEADERS
Taxpayers' League Sends Seven From Colorado Strike Area—Further Action Suspended

STEAMBOAT SPRINGS, Colo., Jan. 5.—Aroused by the turmoil in which Oak Creek, Steamboat Springs, and other centres of strike activity in the northern Colorado coal fields are being kept by the strike of the United Mine Workers of America, 1000 members of the Routt County Taxpayers' league yesterday caused seven officers of the organization to leave Oak Creek and on Saturday night issued an "ultimatum" directing that 15 other so-called "agitators" leave the district within 24 hours or they would be deported.

The action of the league so stirred up hostilities in the section of the strike zone that Sheriff Chivington called upon Governor Ammons for troops.

The governor communicated with the district attorney and members of the league and as a result the terms of the "ultimatum" were suspended at a conference between members of the league and representatives of the union.

She was met at the train on her arrival and, in the presence of members of the state militia, was ordered to board the train again and continue traveling until out of the strike district. It is believed she went to Denver.

A NATION-WIDE STRIKE

Charles H. Moyer Credited With Saying That Compers Will Consider Sympathetic Walkout

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—A meeting of the executive committee of the American Federation of Labor at Washington at which the Michigan copper strike will be considered will be called by Samuel Compers, president of the organization. This was learned from Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, here today. He was asked concerning rumors that an attempt would be made today to call a nation-wide strike in sympathy with the Michigan and Colorado miners. "Any such demands must be made on the American Federation of Labor," he replied.

"Have you asked for a nation-wide strike?" he was asked.

"There has been considerable pressure exerted that such a demand be made. However, it may be said that our own plans are in status quo."

"I will confer tomorrow with Charles E. Denham, vice president of the organization and members of the executive board and we will determine what further action to take now that Mr. Denham has been unable to negotiate a peace plan and the governor of Michigan is about to make a personal investigation."

"Moyer will leave the hospital this afternoon but his physicians have ordered him to rest quietly in his hotel for another week."

NO NEWS OF GENERAL STRIKE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Vice President Connell, the only official of the American Federation of Labor in town today, professed to know nothing of a special meeting of the executive council to act on the copper strike situation. President Compers was expected at his office tonight. Vice President Connell indicated that he did not credit any proposal for a general strike.

AWAIT ARRIVAL OF GOVERNOR

CALUMET, Mich., Jan. 5.—Interest in the copper miners' strike in the northern peninsula today centered around the expected arrival here of Governor Ferris, who will endeavor to bring about a settlement of the prolonged strike called by the Western Federation of Miners. The governor will arrive in the strike zone but a few hours after the departure of John H. Denham, solicitor for the department of labor, who returned to Washington after failing to bring together the opposing interests.

YOUNG BURGLARS

Two Arrested in Drug Store — Son Robs His Father

Two of the most daring juvenile burglars which the local police have come in contact with for some time were captured about 1.30 o'clock this morning in the drug store of Wells Brothers on Bridge street by Officers Palmer and Ingalls. William Connolly, aged 18, and James M. Howard, only 13 years of age, were later learned to be the names of the two young burglars. The patrolmen nabbed them just after they had made their entrance. A razor and 18 cents were all that the boys had stolen here when they were placed under arrest.

Early last evening the same pair broke into the store of Madame Caron and made good a haul from the shelves of the place. Prayer books, rosary beads, jewelry, and various other goods were stolen, the whole valued at nearly $100.

The store of Jacob Tagg on Lakeview avenue is another place which Howard broke into although Connolly was not with him on this break. Tagg's place was entered about eight o'clock last night. Here Howard collected 100 boxes of cigarettes and an unopened box of cigars.

The two youths will be brought up before the juvenile session of police court on next Friday, charged with breaking, entering and larceny.

Arrested in Nashua

The police of Nashua arrested Louis Perreault and William Rivers yesterday afternoon upon the complaint of the local police upon the two prisoners were sent to Lowell late last night. The charge against the two men was larceny from the father of Rivers.

Henry Rivers, the father, is an old man who has worked hard all his life and has managed to lay by a few dollars so as to make the last few years of his existence less arduous. His son, however, did not care whether his father went to the poor house or not when, with his companion Perreault, he sneaked into his father's room at two o'clock Sunday morning and stole all the money that his father had secreted in his clothes. $120 was what the two thieves found.

Then Perreault and William Rivers sallied forth on a good time. The pair hung around Lowell until nearly noon Sunday and then they decided to head for Nashua, thinking that they could not be arrested after they had crossed the line dividing the two states.

The pair got as far as Nashua when the third for her overcame them and they proceeded to "hunker up."

Not long after this the Nashua police received word from Supt. Welch to arrest the two thieves. Officer Barker found the two men waiting for the Manchester car and promptly placed them under arrest. Lieut. Martin Maher later brought both men to Lowell, where they were committed to the city jail but each accused the other of being the plotters. The preponderance of evidence seemed to indicate, however, that the son was the one who laid the plans to rob his father of his hard earned savings.

Both were arraigned in police court ter failing to bring together the opposing interests.

According to information received here, Governor Ferris started for the copper country early today from his home in Big Rapids. When he arrives here it is expected he will at once begin consultations with the labor leaders and mine operators. For some time the governor has been urged to make an investigation of the strike and conditions which caused it.

GOV. FERRIS TO STRIKE ZONE

BIG RAPIDS, Mich., Jan. 5.—Governor Ferris left here at 10 o'clock this morning for the copper mining district. He is expected to reach his destination tonight. Before leaving, the governor notified James Cunningham, state labor commissioner, to meet him at Houghton.

GOVERNOR FERRIS AT CALUMET

CALUMET, Mich., Jan. 5.—Facing an investigation of the strike situation, this time at the hands of Gov. Ferris, company managers and officials of the Western Federation of Labor leaders prepared today to open up every avenue of investigation which the governor may desire to explore. The most general opinion was that signs of activity in federal circles especially in regard to the declaration of Chas. H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners were responsible for the governor's determination to visit the district. It was pointed out that he had declined every invitation to come here when the strike started last July.

One phase of the strike situation remained for the governor to work on. John Denham, the federal agent, failed to end the strike after he had first learned how far the union would go and then had tried to persuade the companies to meet it. So far as could be learned, the employers have never been asked officially to give their word and the governor in fact stood in a position of effort in that quarter. As having enlisted with the companies today. The case of union printers employed on Tymoles, the Finnish socialist paper, has been taken up by the local typographical organization. The typesetters are charged with conspiracy to publish statements inciting to riot as were editors, reporters and business managers of the paper.

HELD ON MURDER CHARGE

STEPPATHER HELD IN CONNECTION WITH DEATH OF NINE-YEAR-OLD GIRL

SIMSBORO, La., Jan. 5.—Pending a result of a chemical analysis of the body of Mary Long, nine, Caspar Howell, the child's stepfather, is held here on a charge of murder. The child was struck by a train several days ago but she did not seem to be seriously hurt and when she was apparently near the point of recovery an attack of convulsions proved fatal.

The girl was buried but today the district judge ordered the body exhumed and the arrest of Howell. Howell's wife, to whom he had been married only four months, returned to the home of a kinsman, Rev. W. T. Smith, after the child was buried.

The stockholders voted to double the capital stock.

According to John Fenz, president of the bank it is not certain that warrants will be sought for Hanning. The missing assistant cashier is said to have left an explanation of the shortage and an agreement to make it good.

ST. PETER'S CEMETERY

SUPERIOR COURT ASKED TO DIS-SOLVE CORPORATION—LAND IS ADDED TO ST. PATRICK'S

In the superior court today in Boston before Judge Pierce, John W. McEvoy, Esq., presented the petition of Henry J. O'Dowd, Charles H. Molloy, Joseph A. Molloy of this city, and James F. Cavanaugh and James H. Cavanaugh of Manchester, N. H., praying that the corporation known as the "St. Peter's Catholic Burial Association of Lowell" be dissolved. This corporation was organized over two years ago to conduct what is known as St. Peter's cemetery. Recently it has been reported that the cemetery was about to be taken over and operated by His Eminence, Cardinal O'Connell and the dissolution of the corporation at this time is probably the last act in the long controversy that the existence of this cemetery has caused in the courts when the cemetery was owned and controlled by Messrs. Manning and Gray. The church authorities are to be congratulated upon their purchase and their action will no doubt be pleasing to the lot owners.

PORTLAND DRUGGISTS FINED

PORTLAND, Me., Jan. 5.—The municipal court room somewhat resembled the meeting place of a drugstore convention today when representatives of the largest, three wholesale drug houses in Maine were given a hearing on the recent unexpected seizure of quantities of assorted liquors from their establishments. A score or more of druggists from all sections of the state had been summoned to appear as witnesses. All three respondents pleaded guilty to the charge of unlawful possession of intoxicating liquors and were fined $100 each and costs, the total costs aggregating $287.

LITTLE CHANGE NOTED

IN LEADING ISSUES AT OPENING—MARKET DULL—STRONGER AFTER NOON HOUR

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—No very definite trend was perceptible in the early stages of today's stock market, the chief characteristic of which was dullness. Leading issues were without marked change but some of the specialties manifested isolated strength. Trading was of the usual professional character and that element seemed inclined to proceed cautiously in view of the uncertainties now hanging over the general situation. The possibility of some important decisions being handed down by the United States supreme court at today's session also was taken into account.

Opening with some irregularity, today's stock market soon developed a stronger undertone under the lead of the oil shares. California Petroleum preferred and common rose steadily on rumors that highly productive wells had burst forth on the company's property, and Mexican Petroleum was up over three points.

Such specialties as Peoples Gas and Western Union showed gains of 2 to 4 points while the market leaders recorded substantial fractions over the preceding week's close. Operations were on a light scale, however, without indications of nominal public interest.

For the rest of the early session and the greater part of the afternoon the market continued in an extremely apathetic state. All eyes were again turned to Washington in expectation that some of the more important cases before the supreme court might find speedy adjudication. Little attention was paid to the court's decision upholding the constitutionality of the Massachusetts stock tax law.

The market closed strong, stocks displayed a strong upward tendency in the last hour, despite a two point reaction in Canadian Pacific. Union Pacific advanced over two points and various other leaders about a point.

SEA GIVES UP BODY

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—The waves that troubled the sea yesterday washed to shore at Edgemere, L. I., a man's trunk, armless, legless, headless. It was washing back and forth with the ebb and flow of the waves when a laborer passed that way, 500 feet from Neptune avenue, and saw it. He called a policeman. The body was taken to Trudden's morgue.

Although it is nearly three months ago, Oct. 13 1913, when a young aviator, Albert J. Jewel, started to fly from Hempstead Plains, L. I., to partake in an aviation meet on Staten Island, no one doubtless has forgotten the incident, for Jewel never was seen or heard of again.

Never again, that is, till yesterday, for the man's trunk found on the beach probably was all that is left of Jewel. The police have declined so far to believe that a positive identification has been established, but the seaworn body was Jewel's to the best belief of his uncle, William H. Carey, his widow, Mrs. Jewel, and G. H. La Pointe a friend who knew him well.

Ceaseless swishing back and forth at the ocean's bottom had worn away all but a few shreds of clothing, and there was nothing on the trunk save one side of a woolen undershirt and a paper vest.

SALEM POLICE ASK RAISE

SALEM, Jan. 4.—With less daily remuneration for service, no opportunity for pension in case of disqualification by physical injury or old age, only one day leave of absence in every 30, no allowance of witness fees in court, the city council will be formally asked to increase wages from $2.75 to $3 daily for each patrolman.

A canvass of Massachusetts cities shows that each patrolman is paid $3 a day in Lowell, Lawrence, Beverly, Springfield, Quincy, Pittsfield, New Bedford, North Adams, Melrose, Medford, Fitchburg, Taunton, Woburn, Haverhill and Worcester. In Somerville, Brockton, Lynn and Holyoke each patrolman is paid $11.00 a year. In Chelsea, Everett, Newton, Waltham and Cambridge the salary is $12.00.

All of the cities in Massachusetts have adopted the plan for disabled police officers except Salem, Taunton, Fitchburg, Lawrence, New Bedford, North Adams and Fitchburg. With the exception of Pittsfield, Salem, Lawrence, Fitchburg, Worcester, Taunton and Haverhill, where policemen are each allowed one day off monthly without loss of wages, all other cities in the state grant two days off.

The appropriation for the Salem police department last year was $55,000. A greater amount will be required this year incident with additional expenses of the department in its new headquarters. Increase in wages of patrolmen 25 cents a day would aggregate about $600 additional expenses.

Railroad to Alaska Urged In Congress

Photos by American Press Association.
By JOHN J. BREEN.

THE proposition to issue $35,000,000 in bonds and to make immediately available the appropriation of $10,000,000 for the construction of a federal government railroad in Alaska is before congress and opens anew the problem as to what this country will do with the great undeveloped empire of the north. That the construction of a railroad by the government to penetrate the coal fields will finally be authorized is the prediction of many senators.

There has been developed some opposition, however, in the territories committee of the house of representatives which has the proposition directly in charge. In a minority report it is declared that "the building of a railroad between the United States and Alaska or the construction of such roads in Alaska has been unattractive to private capital, and there is no appropriate defense to be advanced for the launching of the federal government into such a scheme."

In addition it is maintained that there is a coal supply of 7,000 years' duration in the United States and that Wyoming has enough for the United States for ten centuries to come.

Senator Key Pittman of Nevada, who is one of the most earnest advocates of an Alaskan railroad, declares that ordinarily he would be opposed to government ownership, regarding it as a dangerous political power in our form of government. A situation is presented in Alaska, however, he believed, which would exempt it from this rule and justify government construction and ownership.

Alaska, with its potential wealth and its scenic attractions second to no country in the world, now, after more than half a century of ownership by the United States, presents transportation difficulties to a traveler and to the resident which are almost insurmountable except in a few isolated instances. In the great mountain ranges he hears of gold and copper which need only railroads or wagon roads to reach tidewater and make the person who finds them wealthy beyond the dreams of avarice. But the transportation is not there.

Alaska's Great Area.

Few persons who have not visited the remarkable country realize its extent or possibilities. It is a region needing strong men, of great mountains and mammoth rivers rushing down to the sea. Its area is as large as that of the combined states of Washington, Oregon, California, Nevada and Arizona, or, to put it another way, as large as the thirteen original states, with the addition of Maine, Vermont, Ohio, Indiana, Tennessee, Kentucky and Michigan, with a few square miles to spare. These states total 585,210 square miles. Alaska stretches over 585,400.

It is one-fifth as large as the entire United States and if placed with its northern boundary along the northern boundary of the United States at Minnesota would extend through half a dozen and more of the largest states of the central west, while its southeastern boundary would rest at Charleston, S. C., and the last of the Aleutian islands would be in the vicinity of the Golden Gate.

Such is the great "mother of the north," which was bought from Russia in 1857 for $7,200,000 and since that time has produced $470,399,033 and the beginning is not even reached as yet. During the year 1912 the products of the country totaled $40,354,178. Of this amount gold and copper were mined to the value of $21,580,000, and fish and fur were worth $18,120,132.

Its exports of all kinds during that year amounted to $72,741,000, and its imports to $26,753,341. Such is the country whose surface has just been scratched and whose real development has not begun, for which half a century ago this government paid a paltry $7,200,000, and then the man who made the purchase was characterized as a simpleton.

There are only 465 miles of railroad built in all Alaska, and of this but 334 miles is operated commercially. The remainder consists of 119 abandoned and twelve miles of cannery road. The Guggenheim road up the Copper River makes 197 miles of the operated mileage.

In wagon roads and trails the country is but little better off, with a total for the entire territory of 3,611 miles. Wagon roads make up 847 miles, winter sled roads 645, trails 1,559 and trails staked for winter 460 miles.

During the winter months, when the days are short and the mercury drops low in the tube, these rivers are used for roads of travel, and in some instances communication is more swift in the winter than during the summer months. None is an example of this. In the summer for the past few years there has been a mail only once a month, except in rare instances, coming in from Seattle or San Francisco by steamer. In the winter the dog teams bring it down the Tanana and Yukon from Fairbanks once in two weeks, after it reaches the former city by way of Valdez or Seward by other dog teams.

Legislators Travel Far.

Former Governor Walter E. Clark of Alaska in a contributed article tells of the difficulties of the assembling and adjournment of the first legislative assembly of Alaska in the spring of 1913. Natural conditions such as have had no counterpart in human history confronted the members.

The territory for which this legislature was elected to pass laws is probably larger than any other political division of the earth's surface presided over by an official other than a president or a sovereign. So sparsely settled is this great region that it is estimated that the number of white persons to the square mile of area is only about sixteen.

The election of the members of this legislature was held in the month of November, 1912, eight senators being chosen and sixteen representatives.

The election registers, ballots and other papers from two of the four great judicial divisions of Alaska had to be transmitted to Juneau, the capital, through the mails overland in mid-winter, and complete returns did not reach Juneau until Feb. 12, 1913. There they were canvassed by the territorial canvassing board. As Mr. Clark says, if, in the first legislative election, the vote had been so close in certain precincts as to promise contested elections as between two or more candidates unfortunate results would have followed, for the necessary slowness in making returns to the canvassing board rendered it impossible to issue election certificates until the members apparently elected had arrived in Juneau for the convening of the legislature on March 2. In this case, however, the "face" returns were so conclusive there was no likelihood of change.

The members elected from the north and northwest divisions were obliged to travel over the winter trail. Several of those from the northern (Fairbanks) division traveled about 360 miles in sleighs operated by the stage company over the Fairbanks-Valdez wagon road, but the senators and representatives from the northwest (Nome) division traveled with dog teams from points in that division to the head of the stage line at Fairbanks, a distance of from 700 to 900 miles. Then followed the sleigh trip of about 360 miles to Valdez and a journey by steamer from Valdez to Juneau of about 690 miles. One of the senators from the fourth division walked over the frozen trail during one stage of his journey several hundred miles. On the average the twenty-three members who actually attended the first session traveled a distance of 2,541 miles in order to reach the capital and return to their homes. The six members from the second division traveled on the average 5,514 miles. The largest one way mileage of any member was that of Representative Kennedy, 4,049. This latter was the "shortest usually traveled route" in returning to his home after the spring breakup of the trail. In coming to Juneau his mileage was 1,959 over the winter trails.

Lane Favors Railroads.

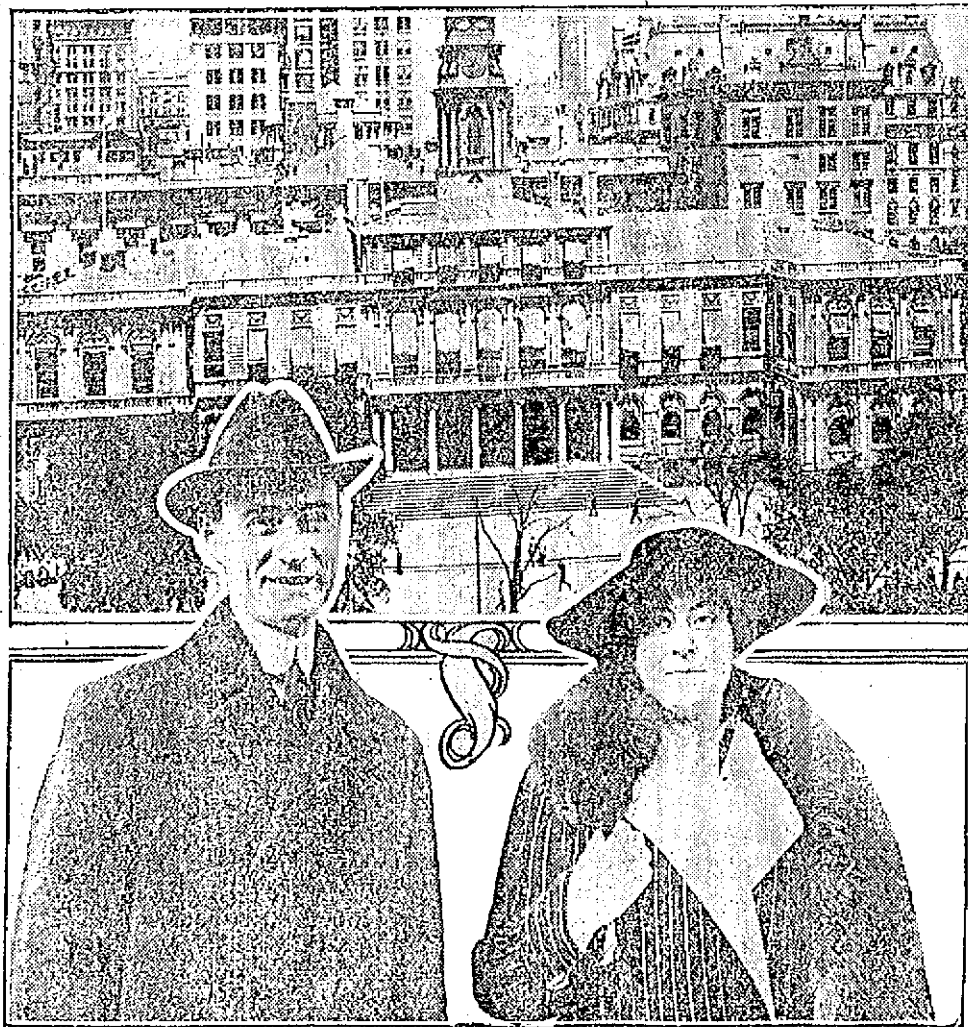

Secretary of the Interior Lane recently wrote:

"There is but one way to make any country a real part of the world and that is by building railroads into it. This has been the heart of England's policy in Africa, of Russia's policy in western Asia and is the prompting hope of the new movement in China. Whoever owns the railways of a country determines very largely the future of that country."

"I am convinced that we should think of Alaska as a land not only of mines and fisheries, but of towns, farms, mills and factories, supporting millions of people of the hardest and most wholesome of the race. If this conception of a possible Alaska is a true one our legislation should be such as to most surely bring about this possibility. It seems to me there is less of hazard as to Alaska's future if the government of the United States owns the railroads, which will make its fertile interior valleys accessible from the coast and bring its coal, iron, copper and other mineral resources within the reach of the world."

"This is a new policy for the United States. Very true. This is a new part of the United States. And policies properly change with new conditions. The one determining question in all matters of government should be, 'What is the wise thing to do?' The ancient method of opening a country was to build wagon roads. The modern method is to build railroads."

Mitchel, at 34, Mayor of Great City

Photos of Mayor Mitchel and Mrs. Mitchel copyright, 1913, by American Press Association.

MAYOR JOHN PURROY MITCHEL, MRS. MITCHEL, NEW YORK CITY HALL IN BACKGROUND.

STUDENTS of government in every city in the United States and even in European cities today have their eyes focused on John Purroy Mitchel, elected to become on the first of the year at the youthful age of thirty-four years mayor of the great city of New York, the operation of whose government has been a problem which some of the brightest minds in the country have sought to solve.

There are so many and mixed angles in the running of this great city that when Mr. Mitchel's ardent friends privately confess their misgivings. It was thought when the late William J. Gaynor became the head of the municipal organization of the big city the ideal man for the job had been found. Even the late mayor's enemies admit he was the greatest municipal executive the city had in many a day. But toward the end of his term he had to bear a great amount of criticism, due to the odium heaped on the police department and the subway question. Men who were his former friends were among the first to desert him. Without, he was a great man and a great mayor. Now New York has a young, virile man who, while he has not had near the experience with men and things of his predecessor, is consumed with energy and hopefulness and who is determined that the government of this great city shall be conducted on strict business principles. He has stated that he intends to surround himself with the best men he can find irrespective of partisanship politics. He has declared that he has a full conception of the great task ahead of him and that he intends to make good.

Mayor Mitchel was born in Fordham, in the Bronx, July 19, 1879. His father was born in Ireland, but emigrated to America before the civil war, serving in the confederate army on the staff of General John B. Gordon. After the war the elder Mitchel came to New York and for a long term of years was city fire marshal. Henry D. Purroy, a noted figure in New York politics of twenty years ago, married a sister and thereby became the uncle of the present mayor. It was from this uncle that a part of his name comes—John Purroy.

Here are some of the new mayor's personal characteristics:

He dresses well, without gaudiness or flash. His clothes seem always to fit him, and you don't see wrinkles in his trousers or across the back of his coat.

He likes a good dinner and knows how to order one without looking at the bill of fare to see how much each dish costs.

He rides in the subway and does not try to sport an automobile that is beyond his income.

He goes to the theater and enjoys a late supper in good company.

He says "Hello!" to men he knows and is not too dignified to call friends by their first names.

He is a flat dweller in New York in winter and gets out into the country in the summer time.

He likes an easy chair, a good book and a cigar in his own home on a cold winter night.

He is handy with his fists and quick on his feet. He is a baseball fan and an all round outdoor sportsman.

Out of town visitors say you can tell New Yorkers by their indifference to people about them. Then Mitchel is a New Yorker. He has a way of concentrating his mind on something and appearing wholly oblivious to persons and events surrounding him. He does not seem even to hear. His power of centering on a single subject or object is exceptional.

Mayor Mitchel has been seven years in political office as follows:

Appointed an assistant in the corporation counsel's office in 1906 by William B. Ellison, then corporation counsel under Mayor McClellan. Promoted to commissioner of accounts April 22, 1907. Elected president of the board of aldermen in 1909. Appointed collector of the port of New York by President Wilson in May, 1913. Elected mayor Nov. 4, 1913.

Mrs. Mitchel's tastes are and always have been in the four years of her married life—she was Miss Olive Child, and she and Mr. Mitchel were married just before he started campaigning for the presidency of the board of aldermen in 1909—in complete accord with the old fashioned view of her own position and its responsibilities. She is a devotee of the theater, but she does not go to go alone, and she will not permit her husband to escape her unless she is convinced that he also would enjoy and would benefit by the relaxation.

JACQUES KNICKERBOCKER.

GOVERNOR JOHN K. TENER.

IT is generally agreed that the state of Pennsylvania will be a big loser and the National baseball league a great gainer when John Kinley Tener, who now presides over the destinies of the Keystone State, devotes all his time to baseball. Those who with tongue and pen have proclaimed that the great national game makes for better citizenship can point to a striking example in the man who recently was selected president of the oldest major league.

Tener made good as a ball player. Then he made good as a business man. Next he made good in politics, which is harder than playing third base on a rough diamond with the opposing team hitting at a .300 clip. Now he has been selected to handle executive all the teams in the National league. Will he again make good? His friends answer by declaring that the National league under his experienced eye is in for the most prosperous period in its career.

Tener is expected to be the savior of the league. Not that there was any imminent danger of this body being disrupted, but baseball is a scrappy, aggressive game. It has scrappy, aggressive managers (with apologies to one Jawn McGraw). And when an aggregation of this kind gets together to agree on some one who will be their boss the session invariably is a stormy one. And that was the situation when the National league magnates got together at its last meeting.

Then Tener's name was flashed before the pugnacious magnates. Immediately there was a cessation of dissension. Tener was governor of the great state of Pennsylvania. Would he accept the presidency of the league? When he finally declared that he would the magnates meeting became a joyous feast rather than a bear garden. To show their appreciation of his acceptance they elected him for a term of four years at an annual salary of $25,000.

BUILDINGS DAMAGED BY STORM Seabright, New Jersey, Torn and Destroyed by Disastrous Storm—Relief Came Today

SEABRIGHT, N. J., Jan. 5.—Although Seabright is torn and desolate from the effects of the disastrous storm which raged from Friday night until this morning relief came with a shift in the wind and the sea began to moderate. The stiff northeast wind which prevailed for days drove the Atlantic far inland, but off shore wind set in this morning with snow. Every able-bodied man in town was busy today setting things in order. Mass meetings are to be held looking to an appeal for funds, both from the state and national governments. Damage along the coast is difficult to estimate, but it will exceed a million and a half dollars.

Miner's battle of music, Asso., Thurs. JOHNNY WAS NOT GALLANT The topic at a recent banquet turned to the rising generation, when Gov. John M. Holmes recalled how little Johnny rather ungraciously classified the gentle sex of the Indian tribes.

The incident happened in a school one afternoon when the lesson was on the American Indian, and the teacher asked if any little boy or girl could tell her what the leaders of the various tribes were called.

"They are called chiefs," promptly answered a bright little girl in response to the question.

"Correct," said the teacher, smiling approvingly. "Now, then, can any one of you tell me what the women of the Indian tribes are called?"

For a moment there was silence. Every pupil in the class was blinking hard. Finally little Johnny Brown's hand shot up.

"Well, Johnny," said the teacher, "what are the women of the Indian tribes called?"

"Misses," promptly answered Johnny—Rebuboth Sunday Herald.

ALTITUDES OF PLACES IN PENN. The United States geological survey is publishing a series of reports containing the results of spirit leveling in all parts of the country and giving the exact elevations or altitudes of a great number of points. One of these reports—Bulletin 516, "Results of Spirit Leveling in Pennsylvania, 1899 to 1911"—is available for free distribution and can be had on application to the director of the survey at Washington. The work during the period covered by the report was done in co-operation with the topographic and geologic survey commission of Pennsylvania.

The volume gives the exact elevations above mean sea level of about 2700 points in the state, in addition to nearly 50 secondary elevations from records and topographic maps of the United States geological survey, including altitudes of well known summits, elevations of water surface of prominent lakes, and other useful elevations. These elevations have been determined by the survey in connection with its topographic surveying. To engineers and surveyors this publication should be of great advantage, as the elevations, which have been accurately determined, afford a starting point for a survey of any kind that may be contemplated.

Mr. and Mrs. Flette were also the recipients of many useful gifts while in Canada.

INAUGURATION DAY

During the hours when they are supposed to work for the city their time belongs to the city and is not to be used for political work. And this applies to all heads of departments and the employees under them, even though they may hold their office under the civil service laws.

All laws should be enforced fairly and impartially, and when officers or subordinates in any department fail to realize that an honest and fair enforcement of the law is demanded, it is time for them to step down and out, making way for those who will treat all the citizens with fairness and impartiality.

Conclusion

We should all feel that we are now occupying a position of extreme responsibility. We should never forget that although we may differ in our opinions at times concerning a subject, it is still possible for all to have the same honest ambition for the city's welfare. We were chosen to appropriate money to carry out the work of the city and make the laws, all of which are very important factors in municipal government. Our powers are far reaching and important and we should at all times preserve the courage of our convictions and act upon our own conscience and convictions.

It is very easy for those who are in no way responsible for the results of our acts to give us advice, but in the end the official who assumes the great responsibility of public office or trust, finds that he must answer in the main for the discharge of his duties according to his own conscience and judgment, with true courage and fidelity.

Let us profit by the successes and failures of the past, and approach the performance of our duties in the future with sincerity of purpose which must result in intelligent and efficient civic service, designed to promote the greatest welfare for the city of Lowell.

Commissioner Brown's Inaugural address, chiefly self-laudatory, but containing the following recommendations:

The new charter, from my experience, is to my mind an instrument of good for the people of Lowell. Its original intention was to carry on the government and develop its works, not from political standards or from standards of hatred, but to proceed only from the standpoint and standard of efficiency in public work and faithful and conscientious dealing with the public affairs; this government is not for politics.

First of all, the so-called temporary loan, which is a permanent debt, must be retired. For the first time since I grew I took this matter up in 1909 while I was mayor, and during that year the temporary loan was $350,000 and through my efforts the temporary loan was reduced to $700,000, and when the government came in two years ago under the new charter, the amount of that loan was $700,000. An effort was made with the legislature of 1912 to have a bill introduced to retire that loan, but with no avail. At the present time the temporary loan amounts to $300,000 and there is only one way under the law at present to retire that loan, and that is by legislative act, and I have in contemplation at the present time, if the members of this government will co-operate with me, the presentation of a bill before the incoming legislature that will retire that temporary loan for all time.

Another question that this government must consider is the proper repair and upkeep of all streets in all sections of the city. There should be no sectional favoritism in the repair and upkeep of streets. It should be done and the appropriations, to my mind, should be sufficient to carry out the policy if this government designed.

Under the present financial law, no longer can money be borrowed for so-called current expenses—for instance, if you give $400,000 for the maintenance of your public schools as an appropriation, the public schools must live absolutely within that $400,000 and must so guide themselves in the handling of their funds that they will not exceed their $400,000, because they cannot come back to this council and ask for any more money than was given them. Such is the law as I understand it, and this government will have to define that policy. This government must take into conference the school committee of this city and must no longer have the expense of the school department in order that the municipal council may make a proper and proportionate appropriation for carrying on the schools of our city.

Little consideration has been given to the office of the commissioner of finance during the past two years, but I recommend to the consideration of this government that it be so policy that no other officer for raising money by loan or appropriating money from the general treasury fund, should ever pass before this government without first receiving the sanction of the commissioner of finance. I say this to you, gentlemen, that no embarrassment should confront the government in the management of the city's affairs, and I say further that there should be no transfers of money at any time from the general treasury fund for the payment of departmental expenses after the appropriations have been once made, except by order of a supplementary budget that may be prepared by the commissioner of finance when it may be necessary to provide for extreme emergency.

Since I have been commissioner of finance I have succeeded in having a uniform system of accounting for the city adopted, and that system should receive the co-operation of every commissioner so that there can be found at all times proper data of departmental charges and expenses.

While the charter divorces the police and licensing power, yet it seems to me that the intention of the charter has not been thoroughly carried out, and I believe that there must be a more rigid enforcement of those provisions of the law that have intended to separate the relationship between the licensing and police boards, for I stand for the honest enforcement of police and licensing laws. Impartially enforced have not been equal to the expenditure, and some remedy must be found by which this government can be carried on within the revenues that it expects to receive. There must be a more prompt collection of money due to the city and it will be up to the administrative officers in the various departments to see that those receipts are properly collected.

Above all, there should be a greater co-operation between the various departments for after all, each department is but a part of the whole government and should work always for the best interests of the whole government and of the whole people.

In this past the revenues of this government have not been equal to the expenditure, and some remedy must be found by which this government can be carried on within the revenues that it expects to receive. There must be a more prompt collection of money due to the city and it will be up to the administrative officers in the various departments to see that those receipts are properly collected.

Some of the members discussed the proposition of conducting a banquet, concert and ball, instead of the usual annual evening party. The following will serve as a committee to report on the matter: James F. Bourke, Patrick P. Kane, Andrew J. Welch, Peter F. Brady and John V. Donoghue.

The chairman of the tournament committee, William F. Ryan, reported that he had made arrangements and that a special car had been secured to run to Woburn on Thursday, Jan. 15, when the society will be the guest of the St. Charles' C. T. A.

Charles J. McQuade reported that the anniversary committee had completed arrangements for the smokenalk to be held at the rooms next Tuesday evening. Former presidents of the institute are all expected to be present and to be heard from. An interesting feature will be the lecture of P. P. Sullivan, who will speak of the value of total abstinence to the young men and of the inception of the Mathews. Mr. Sullivan was one of the organizers, and many of the old-time members are expected to attend. An extensive musical program has been prepared and refreshments will be served. All male friends of the society are invited to attend the affair, which will be held at the rooms in Central street. Rev. Dr. Keleher will also speak to the members.

The committee in charge of the recent drawing reported that Patrick Kane held the lucky number for a mere schaum pipe.

The members were loud in their praise for the promptness with which the different committees began their work. The board of trustees will organize this evening. Meetings of the Woburn committee and of the membership contest committee are also scheduled.

Fred C. Church carried the insurance on the building occupied by the Appleton National Bank and the vaults damaged by fire yesterday.

NATURE WAS IMPROVING

James A. McNeill Whistler, astonished many people by the ecstasies he frequently displayed in his conversation; but those who knew the artist best realized that many of his concealed remarks were inspired by a love of mischief rather than by vanity. Here is an example:

"At a house party an effective lady approached the artist."

"O, Mr. Whistler," she said, "I have just been up the river, and it reminded me so much of your pictures."

"Indeed?" Whistler replied, calmly. "Then nature is looking up."—Youth's Companion.

O'Brien's Sweeping Alteration Sale

HAS CAUGHT THE TOWN!

Though it was the week after Christmas, and every store in town having a sale, Friday and Saturday were the two biggest days in our history.

It was an occasion that made us long for a bigger store to do justice to the crowds. It certainly was gratifying to see how the public responded to our announcements.

The Sweeping Alteration Sale continues all the month. We made a dent in the stock Friday and Saturday—a big dent—but $25,000 worth of Clothing and Furnishings can't be sold in two days or two weeks. There's plenty left—too much to suit us, and every effort will be made to sell it out to the last stitch by February 1st.

Stein-Bloch $35.00 Greatcoats at $23.75, and $15.00 Overcoats at $9.75 are sample offerings from both ends of the clothing stock. Just as good at in-between prices.

M. T. I. HELD MEETING

COMMITTEES START IN CAMPAIGN FOR NEW MEMBERS—LECTURE BY P. F. SULLIVAN

A large number of members of the Mathews Temperance Institute attended the regular meeting of the society, which was held yesterday afternoon at its headquarters. Two new members were admitted, and eight propositions for membership were received.

President Michael J. Boyle acted as installing officer for the new board of government, which will serve for the next six months. The following officers were installed: President, William T. Carey; vice president, George F. Bailegan; recording secretary, Patrick Carroll; financial secretary, James F. Bourke; treasurer, Peter F. Brady; marshal, Frank Kelly; trustees, John J. Townsend, Walter Powers and Andrew J. Welch; literary committee, Robert Armstrong; James Sloane and Edward Harris; examiners, James Armstrong, Edward Welch and James E. O'Neill.

The predominant ambition of the officers is to make the Mathews the largest temperance society in the state, and all are well determined to work for that object. The board of trustees is composed of young men, who have been prominent in the society for many years, and the two head officers are also recognized as two of the most competent men in the organization.

The new president announced that he had received a contribution of $25 from a former member of the society, and an equal amount from the spiritual director, Rev. Dr. Keleher, which sums will be used for prizes for a membership contest. The following committee was elected to draw up rules and make preparations for this affair, composed of the following: Patrick J. Nestor, John J. Townsend, Andrew J. Welch, George R. O'Neill and Walter Powers.
